CAL KEEPS HIS MIND OPEN ON PROPOSED CUT

President Defers Action Until Treasury Knows State of Finances

CONFERS WITH MADDEN

Weekend Conference With Senator Pepper Provides New Opportunity

By Associated Press
Swampscott, Mass.—President Coolidge intends to keep his mind open on tax reductions, the major domestic problem confronting the administration, until the treasury can advise him accurately as to the state of the nation's finances.

While he believes it a proper function for the executive and treasury to make recommendations to congress, he is determined to give the house ways and means committee a free hand in the actual formulation of a bill.

ADVOCATES REDUCTION

The attitude of the president was disclosed after he had conferred here Friday with Chairman Madden of the house appropriations committee, who advocated a reduction of maximum surtax rates from 40 per cent to 15 per cent, a cut in the normal income tax rates and abolition of the estate gift and miscellaneous taxes. Mr. Madden predicted a surplus of $37,000,000 would be available for tax reductions at the close of this fiscal year.

The weekend schedule of the president with Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania as his house guest, provides an opportunity for further exchange of views.

AGREEMENT IS NEAR

With reference to China, the president has been informed that such satisfactory progress has been made for reaching an international accord that complete agreement on all points at issue including extra-territoriality is imminent.

With the situation in the far east admittedly delicate, he is giving serious thought to the selection of a new ambassador to Japan as a successor to the late Edgar A. Bancroft.

Confident that anthracite operators and miners will reach an agreement on a new wage scale, the president has given no serious consideration to proposals that he be prepared to seize the mines in case there is a suspension of operations.

GROUND DEFENSE CAN'T STOP PLANES—MITCHELL

By Associated Press
San Antonio, Tex.—"It is well known all over the world that no defense from the ground can stop air craft," declared Colonel Mitchell Saturday in commenting on the recent anti-aircraft tests.

"The recent tests that have been made by the war department are nothing more than kindergarten stuff."

"If they want to devise an adequate defense against aircraft they will have to turn to the people who know how to fly."

Coolidge Arms Policy Shows World Sincerity

(This is the second of four dispatches on the theme "Two Years of Coolidge," written by David Lawrence apropos of the fact that Monday next will mark the end of the second year since Calvin Coolidge took the oath of office as President of the United States.)

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1925, by the Post Pub. Co.
Swampscott, Mass.—Two years is a relatively short time within which to evolve a foreign policy. Indeed, the most characteristic thing which President Coolidge did on acquiring the constitutional power to direct the nation's foreign affairs was to concur in the principles laid down by Charles Evans Hughes, secretary of state under the late President Harding.

The essentials of the Hughes policy, however, became the Coolidge policy because without his endorsement they could not have been continued. Mr. Coolidge had the services of Mr. Hughes until five months ago and since that time Secretary Kellogg, himself a disciple of the Hughes school, has carried on effectively.

BACKS TREATIES

The outstanding achievement of President Coolidge in foreign relations is, like many another thing about him, an unexceptional, unsensational policy, and again one of resistance to what he conceived to be a wrong movement rather than an espousal of some new affirmative action. Mr. Coolidge has prevented by firm and positive action any scrapping of the treaties concluded at the Washington conference for the limitation of naval armament. There have been plenty of efforts to depart from the letter and spirit of these treaties. A much less positive character than Mr. Coolidge might have been drawn this way and that by the extremists on naval armament, so that foreign nations would have lost confidence in the whole hearted purpose of the United States to observe the treaties. There seems to have been enough opportunity to twist words and phrases into meanings that might be considered by some to be justified, but guided by Charles Evans Hughes and reinforced by his own conviction that return to naval competition would be disastrous, Mr. Coolidge has stood the acid test of sincerity on behalf of America.

LEWIS DEMANDS SHOWDOWN FROM MINE OPERATORS

Union Chief Sets Tuesday as Date of Conference on New Pact

By Associated Press
Atlantic City, N. J.—Calling for an end to three weeks of "shadow boxing" and "pleading a case before a jury of supernumeraries," John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, demands that the principal anthracite mine operators meet him in conference next Tuesday to negotiate a new wage agreement.

The virtual ultimatum was served by letter Friday on Samuel W. Warriner, chairman of the anthracite operators' conference. Mr. Lewis demanded that Mr. Warriner, a veteran negotiator, and W. J. Richards, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., attended the conference because the present operators' committee with one exception was composed of "lesser executives" with no power to act.

Mr. Lewis' statement was taken to mean that if the recognized operators leaders failed to appear Tuesday the mine workers would break off negotiations with the possibility of a suspension of work Sept. 1.

The atmosphere of indifference and mystery at Atlantic City has been criticized justly by the metropolitan press. Mr. Lewis wrote, "It has also caused the mine's representatives to believe that the operators are not desirous of concluding an agreement and averting cessation of operations Sept. 1, but are engaged in a form of shadow boxing."

MEN INDICTED WITH LANGLEY ADMIT GUILT

Washington, D. C.—Ben L. Moses and Harry Sattler of Pittsburg, indicted last year with Representative Langley of Kentucky on charges of conspiracy to withdraw liquor illegally, pleaded guilty Saturday in the District of Columbia Supreme court.

They were sentenced to serve two years each in the penitentiary, but were placed on probation for that time.

A fine of $10,000 each was assessed, and they were allowed a week in which to raise the money.

The British employees of the factory are reported to have fired on the rioters, killing four and wounding several of them.

British marines now are guarding the factory.

Most of the British employees have been taken aboard warships, but one of them is reported to have been made prisoner and taken to Nanking university.

FLAMES WREAK HAVOC IN TEXAS OIL TOWN

Liberty, Tex.—A fire had destroyed about half of Liberty and still was burning at noon. The Southern Pacific depot was the latest of a dozen buildings to go down in the path of the flames. The Houston fire department has been called on for aid. Wires of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and the Southern Pacific went out shortly before noon.

Liberty is an oil town, the county seat of Liberty Co., 44 miles west of Beaumont.

EMPLOYEES IDENTIFY HOTEL ROBBERS

Employees of the exclusive Drake hotel, Chicago, were quick to recognize and identify the two men who were held as part of the bandit gang that shot up the place during a holdup. Elvia Lovgren and Irene Bergendahl, hotel secretaries, are at the extreme left; seated are the prisoners, Joe Holmes (left), and Jack Wilson, alias Woods. Assistant State's Attorney John Sbarbaro, in a gray suit, stands behind them.

SIMPLE WOODEN MARKER SHOWS BRYAN'S GRAVE

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—A simple wooden marker, set amid the withering clusters of blossoms that hid his grave, alone marked the last resting place of W. J. Bryan in Arlington National cemetery.

Just over the hillcrest beneath which he sleeps, stand the row on row of white headstones above a spider dead who lost their lives in France. Closer about are the more imposing monuments of the officer dead with whom he keeps his last encampment, and all about are the signs of the orderly, regimented care with which the nation surrounds the last sleep of those it has called to its service.

One day a stone memorial will be erected to tell in graven lettering that the Commoner lies here on this peaceful slope.

The broken family circle still was in Washington Saturday, gathering again the threads of the everyday things of life to which they must turn back.

Mr. Bryan had made no definite plans beyond the decision to return to her home in Miami, when she has recovered a little from the long strain.

Other members of the family planned to leave Saturday night for their homes.

ROOMER PERISHES IN BURNING RESTAURANT

By Associated Press
Mauston—One person was burned to death, two others were severely burned and two buildings were destroyed in a fire which broke out in the Frank Grun restaurant here at 2:30 Saturday morning.

Louis Frank, a roomer occupying a bedroom on the second floor of the restaurant, perished in the flames. Frank Grun, the restaurant proprietor and a Miss Babcock, an employee of the place, were injured in jumping from a second story window of the Grun building. Mrs. Grun made her escape through a second story window also but was not injured.

The R. M. Jones grocery, next to the eating establishment, also burned. The Galvin pharmacy was badly damaged by the fire.

Cause of the conflagration is uncertain. It is believed to have started in the rear of the restaurant.

FARMER DRIVES OX TEAM ON 60-MILE TREK TO PAGEANT

Superior—John Popsengartner of Brule left his farm Thursday morning walking with an ox team to Bayfield, 60 miles away, to join the Apostle Islands Indian pageant. It is his farthest trip in 40 years and also his first glimpse of Lake Superior, but 23 miles from where he lives.

The oxen are used on John's farm and he will not trust another driver with them. Also he walks to save them, declaring it is no harder on him to walk than it is on his team. By Thursday evening the trio, man and oxen, had reached Cornucopia, 40 miles from home. They left at daylight Friday for the last leg of the journey. John says his good for his oxen to have a change of scenery. They will appear in the second day's act of the pageant which will be repeated eight times this year.

OSHKOSH GIRL KEEPS BADGER LINKS HONORS

Bernice Wall Shoots Par Golf to Beat Frances Hadfield in Finals

By Associated Press
Kenosha—It will not be necessary for the coronation of a new queen to rule Wisconsin state women's golf activities for the new term. Miss Bernice Wall, petite Oshkosh marvel, will do for another year. She asserted again all the qualities that have made her the titleholder for three out of four years by retaining her honors in a brilliantly played match against Miss Frances Hadfield, Blue Mound, on the Kenosha club course Saturday, winning 2 up and 1 to play. There was little to choose between the untarnished performance of the two stars. They tracked over the first nine in 41, one over par, with Miss Wall leading one up.

The second round brought cards of 42, equalling par. Miss Wall playing in her characteristic steady fashion, exhibited dazzling approach shots and her putting, admitted to be her only weak point, was the best of the tournament. On the other hand, Miss Hadfield showed remarkable clutching power but failure to run down putts inside four feet wrought havoc with her efforts to snatch the crown which again rests complacently on the blonde locks of Miss Wall.

ESTABLISH NEW RATE SCHEDULE ON CHEESE

Washington, D. C.—A new schedule of rates on cheese from Wisconsin and Chicago to Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas was laid down Saturday by the Interstate Commerce commission, and railroads were ordered to put it into effect by Oct. 1.

The commissions order involves reduction in some cases, and increases in others resulted from an investigation instituted in 1924.

Under the new schedule, rates from principal Wisconsin producing points to Tulsa will be $1.35 per hundred pounds; to Oklahoma City $1.42; to Little Rock $1.37; to Dallas $1.55; to Houston $1.67; to San Antonio $1.73; to Shreveport $1.49; to Lake Charles, La., $1.58; to El Paso $1.35.

From Chicago to Tulsa the new rate will be $1.17; to Oklahoma City $1.24; to Little Rock $1.15; to Dallas $1.37; to Houston $1.49; to San Antonio $1.55; to El Paso $1.67; to Shreveport $1.31; and to Lake Charles $1.40.

These rates will govern the levels of rates applied to other points in the southwest not specifically named.

Geiger of the United States District court here, has under consideration an application for an order establishing a permanent padlock on the soft drink division of the Hagemeyer Brewery at Green Bay. The order was presented late Friday. Judge Geiger could not be reached Saturday on an inquiry if he had signed the order. It is understood that the application is the result of an amicable understanding between brewery and government officials, and that under the understanding the Hagemeyer property will be allowed to operate for the manufacture of ice cream and candy.

BEAM TOUCHES LIVE WIRE AND KILLS WORKER

F. Weeks of Chilton, Meets Instant Death While With Power Crew

ONE OTHER BADLY BURNED

Wind Blows Steel Against 2,300-volt Line, Shocking Six in Gang

One man was killed and five injured, one critically, Saturday noon, when they received a severe electrical shock through a piece of steel which came into contact with a high tension line constructed near Hilbert.

The dead man is F. Weeks of Chilton, who is said to be about 27 years old. He was killed instantly. Gale Holt, who lives near Stockbridge, and is slightly younger than Weeks, is in a serious condition, but physicians say he will recover. The other four employees were rendered unconscious and still are in a very weakened condition.

The men were employed by an engineering company extending a line between Milwaukee and Green Bay. In erecting a steel tower the six men were raising a piece of steel. A sudden gust of wind caused the steel to sway and touch a wire charged with 2,300 volts of electricity. It was a lower wire extended for farmer patronage and was weaker than the upper line, which contained 55,000 volts. Had the steel come into contact with this line, not one of the six men would have survived.

Prompt aid was rendered by the foreman of the crew. At the risk of his own life, he grasped Weeks and pulled him off. It is said that he used all means possible to save the man and was instrumental in saving the others. Those who survived are still suffering from the nervous shock.

An inquest ordered by Coroner Rathbun of Chilton was to be held in Hilbert at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to determine if the accident was avoidable.

While the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company office here was without word from Hilbert on the accident, it was stated there that the line probably was the North American Co. line, of which the local company is a subsidiary. The line is being extended by contract by the Hoosier Engineering company.

LAW DEMANDS TRUTHFUL ADS, CLUB INFORMED

Terms of New State Measure Are Made Known to Advertising Men Here

Appleton Advertising club has received a letter from H. O. McCabe of Madison, secretary of the Wisconsin Retail Merchants and Furnishers' association, giving the complete details of the new law to be passed in the coming session. The new law is expected to be a decided benefit to legitimate merchants and replaces the old truth in advertising law of 1913. Administration of the law is placed with C. E. Ballard of Appleton, treasury agent, and $5,000 is to be appropriated annually for its enforcement. These features strengthen the enforcement of measure curbing exaggerated and misleading advertising. The measure was proposed through a resolution adopted by the clothiers and furnishers association.

The act reads as follows:

"No person, firm, corporation or association shall, with intent to sell or in any wise dispose of merchandise, securities, service or anything offered by such person, firm, corporation or association, directly or indirectly, to the public for sale or distribution, with intent to increase the consumption thereof, or to induce the public in any manner to enter into any obligation resulting therefrom or acquire title thereto, or an interest therein, make, publish, disseminate, circulate or place before the public, or cause directly or indirectly, to be made, published, disseminated, circulated or placed before the public in this state, in a newspaper or other publication, or in the form of a book, notice, handbill, poster, bill, circular, pamphlet or letter or in any other way, an advertisement of any sort regarding merchandise, securities, service or anything so offered to the public, which advertisement contains any assertion, representation or statement of fact which is untrue, deceptive or misleading.

Any firm, person, corporation or association violating any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $50 or more than $200 or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than 30 days or more than 60 days or by both such fine and imprisonment; and each sale advertisement or representation in contravention of the provisions of this section shall be deemed a distinct offense and shall subject the offender to such punishment."

CITY STILL WILL HAVE USE OF NIGHT AIR MAIL

Appleton will still be served by night air mail service between Chicago and New York in spite of the fact that the eastbound mail plane now leaves Chicago an hour earlier than when the service was started, according to word received at the local post-office.

When the Chicago-New York night flying service went into effect the mail plane for New York left Chicago at 7:30 in the evening. Now the plane leaves at 7:20, one hour earlier after noon at 12:20 and arrives in Chicago at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, just in time for the mail to be taken to the 7:30 plane for New York. The connection at Chicago is very close, but it will be made according to word received at the Appleton postoffice.

When it was learned that the flying schedule was changed so that the eastbound plane left an hour earlier it was feared that Appleton would not benefit by the night air mail service, as it was felt the connection in Chicago could not be made. The new flying schedule went into effect July 20. Appleton air mail letters to New York should be mailed in the postoffice by 11 o'clock in the morning so that they can be put on the 12:20 train for Chicago.

RENOVATE H. S. FOR OPENING

Walls of Senior School Repainted—Lockers Will Be Taken Out

Repainting of the walls and ceiling of the main floor corridor of the senior high school building is now in progress, and it is thought the work will be completed by the end of next week. The corridor was formerly calcimine but the finish now being used is oil paint of a light cream color, which presents a smooth, glossy surface when it dries. The color is much lighter and more attractive than the old. The two alcoves leading into the assembly room the main corridor are also being painted in the same manner. Three of the classrooms will also be painted.

Plastering on the ceiling of the main corridor in its weak and defective spots has been completed. New plaster has also been put in the gymnasium and a few classrooms.

About 300 steel lockers will be taken out of the senior high school building to afford more space in the main corridor on the first floor. Due to the opening of the new junior high schools the enrollment in the senior high school will be about 30 less. No lockers will be left in the first floor corridor, but there will be lockers on the second floor, and in the basement, the same as in previous years. Some of the surplus lockers will be taken to the McKinley school in the Fourth ward where they will be used in the new junior high school unit now being built at that school.

MUMPS QUARANTINE RULES ARE CHANGED

Madison — Isolations or cases of mumps will date from the time the case is reported to the health officer, instead of from the beginning of the disease, under a new rule of the state board of health. The rule was adopted to enable health authorities to exercise better control of mumps, the board announced. The old rule called for isolation for two weeks after the onset of the disease and one week after the disappearance of the swelling. Local boards of health are permitted to make and enforce additional regulations as they see fit.

Bear Creek Farmers See Valuable Demonstrations of Fertilizing

Twelve carloads of farmers from Bear Creek and vicinity took part in the fertilizer demonstration tour conducted by the Bear Creek Shipping association Thursday through the western part of the county. Prof. C. J. Chapman of the soils department of the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture accompanied the tour and gave demonstration lectures at each stop. One of the county's oldest fertilizer experts, F. Tittman of Kaukauna, also helped the farmers on the tour.

The first stop was at the county asylum where three barns recently erected were inspected. After this the group proceeded to the Charles Runge farm, Hortonville, where sweet clover was inspected; the William Lippold farm, Hortonville, where a fertilizer experiment was made on corn; Otto Dorschner farm, Hortonville, where a demonstration showing the result of fertilizer used three years ago on oats was made. At noon the group lunched at the A. P. Cuff farm, Hortonville, where they were taken through a house over 60 years old. Here the farmers inspected the new bacon hogs, Hampshire, sweet clover, sweet and sour soil and the effect of fertilizer on corn.

In the afternoon stops were made at the Northern farms, Shiocton, where trial plots with three different kinds of fertilizer were inspected and a crop of oats standing and 5 feet high was looked over; Loeselyoung's farm, where the group visited "Jumbo," known as the world's largest bull.

Stops your car Quicker!

in 27 feet—going 20 miles an hour!

AFTER a series of tests made on January 21, 1923, Mr. F. D. Wilson of the C. R. Wilson Body Company, Toledo, Ohio, signed this statement: "My Hupmobile, with two-wheel brakes, lined with Rusco Brake Lining, can be stopped, going 20 miles an hour in 27 feet."

That's how safe Rusco-lined, properly adjusted brakes will make your car. A lining will pass police inspection if it will stop in 35 feet going 20 miles an hour. Rusco stopped 8 feet quicker! With death ahead, 8 feet less way is a godsend.

Rain or shine makes no difference to Rusco. RUSCO grips and holds just as well in wet weather as in dry. Turn the hose on Rusco-lined brakes. Then on any other kind. Water makes no difference to Rusco's stopping ability! Rusco is treated with a compound that makes it resist water, heat, oil, dirt and wear. Will not burn.

Your repair man pays more for Rusco than for other brands of lining, but he doesn't charge you more.

IN GIVING you Rusco—the finest quality brake lining it is possible for the repair man to obtain—he accepts a less profit than if he sold you any other brand. When your brakes need relining, be sure to get the benefit of Rusco superiority and the conscientious service of a

ANGLERS WAIT END OF STRIKE BY WARY BASS

Bass fishing during the past ten days has steadily declined until at the present time most local anglers are ready to lay aside their rods for a few weeks.

Reports from the lake country to the north and west and from the Door county peninsula declare that the bass have spurned every manner of live and artificial bait for almost two weeks. Here and there a man may have caught a good mess of bass, but such exceptions are said to be few and far between.

A report from the Indian reservation declares that the Wolf river bass have been hitting fairly well, but that four out of every five fish caught are wormy.

Shawano Lake, which has been one of the best waters in the state this year, has yielded no catch of note for two weeks.

It is believed that fishing generally will improve within ten days or two weeks. The latter part of July usually sees a slump in the sport, it is said, but conditions alter for the better again during the last two weeks of August.

PLAN BOARD DEFERS SESSION TO AUG. 5

Owing to the fact that only a few members of the planning commission were at the meeting scheduled for Thursday morning, the commission adjourned until 11 o'clock Wednesday, Aug. 5. No business was transacted. Business pending is action on a proposed plat of Dupont addition in the Third ward and a change in the zoning ordinance to permit Peter Rade-macher to build a garage at Superior and Atlantic-sts.

COUNTY SHAPES LEGION DRIVE

Council Has Dinner at Kaukauna and Takes Up Several Matters

Plans for the American legion endowment drive soon to be launched in cities of Outagamie-co in connection with the nationwide $5,000,000 campaign were discussed at the meeting of Outagamie County Council of the American legion at a meeting in Legion hall, Kaukauna, Thursday evening. H. J. Pettigrew, chairman of Outagamie-co council, Hugo Keller, Wisconsin state commander, John Hantschel, Joseph Witmer, Homer H. Benton, and Alfred C. Bosser attended the meeting from Appleton.

Other subjects discussed were the continuance of the Badger Legionaire, a state legion paper, matters pertaining to the state legion convention at Stevens Point Aug. 20, 21 and 22 and the question of relief for disabled soldiers.

Thirty legion representatives from various parts of the county attended the meeting. Three Kaukauna city war veterans were also in attendance. Supper was served at 8 o'clock by the Kaukauna Women's auxiliary of the American legion, and entertainment was furnished by the Kaukauna legion post.

Riding-- In An Upper Berth---

Is not such a hardship! The upper berth really is as comfortable as the lower—and when you get off at your station you have that much more money to spend for better things than a lower berth in a Pullman car.

Saving is not such a hardship. And you can be proud of it while you would never think of being proud over your spending. And later on in life it leaves you with much more money to spend for anything you want. Then you can ride in an upper berth or a lower one—it won't make any difference to you then.

TAX EXEMPTION ASKED BY MOOSE ON CLUBHOUSE

Board of Review Will Grant Hearing on Lodge Request
Aug. 6

Whether the Moose lodge will be declared exempt of taxes, like the Masonic temple, or whether it will be put in a class with Elks lodge which must pay taxes on its hall, may be determined at a hearing to be conducted by the city board of equalization on Aug. 6. The board is in session for two weeks hearing complaints on property assessments.

Robert G. Zuehlke, secretary of the Moose lodge, appeared before the board this week with a request that it be declared exempt of taxes, in spite of the fact that rooms in the building may be let for profit.

The lodge, like other orders, claims exemption under the state law governing benevolent associations and fraternal societies. The law is said to apply to such lodge buildings as are used exclusively for lodge purposes and are not leased to others for profit.

Moose lodge now is regarded as exempt as far as the building is concerned for other purposes, but the lodge is negotiating with the board of education to lease a part of the building to the high school this year. The rental price will depend upon whether the board of equalization exempts the lodge from taxation. The building is assessed at about $14,000 which would bring the taxes to approximately $500 a year.

Elks lodge lost a case to withhold axes to the city a year ago, but the Elks lodge of Superior has appealed a similar case to the supreme court. When the Appleton Masonic lodge built its temple it also claimed exemption.

Representatives of Appleton banks appeared at the board session this week to discuss about tax assessments. The banks have been paying taxes under protest pending settlement of a case carried to the United States supreme court challenging the equality of the present method of taxation.

58 DRAWING TABLES PLACED IN SCHOOLS

Fifty-eight new mechanical drawing tables have been placed in the three new junior high school buildings, according to B. J. Rohan, superintendent of schools. The tables were made by the Sheldon Manufacturing Co. of Muskegon, Mich.

Mr. Rohan has also received word from the Fred Medart Manufacturing Co., of St. Louis, that $1,200 worth of gymnasium equipment ordered from that company for Appleton's new schools was shipped July 27. The equipment should arrive in Appleton the latter part of this week or the first few days of next week.

FUNERAL OF U. S. ENVOY WILL BE HELD IN TOKYO

Tokyo—The funeral of American Ambassador Edgar A. Bancroft who died at Kanazawa on Tuesday will be held in Tokyo next Wednesday or Thursday from St. Andrew cathedral. Announcement from the American embassy here Friday also said Bishop McKim of Tokyo would officiate at the services.

Thus far, it is uncertain how the body will be transported to the United States but it is understood the Japanese government is offering the use of the cruiser Tama, which has already been assigned to cruise to America for the California diamond jubilee celebration.

BEAUTY EXPERTS MUST HAVE FIXED TRAINING

Madison—Beautifying of Wisconsin women requires 600 hours of training under regulations announced by the state board of health for the registration of beauty parlor workers under the new law governing the cosmetic art. One hundred hours are assigned for teaching of marcelling.

Schools of cosmetic art must employ one or more instructors of five or more years experience, three years of which must have been spent in managing a beauty parlor, the board announced. There must be one or more instructors to each 16 students or less. Physicians must lecture at least once a week. Rooms of sufficient size and proper equipment for lecture and demonstration purposes are required.

If the public is served for compensation, the school must provide separate rooms in which the public is served with a licensed manager in charge. It is required to advertise as a school and not as a beauty parlor. Any beauty parlor which accepts compensation for instructing persons in any branch of the cosmetic art is considered a school.

Two years ago he became pastor of St. James church at Wheeling. Mr. Nesper is expected to occupy the pulpit in First English Lutheran church here Aug. 9.

MADISON WILL POUR BAD BOOZE IN SEWER

Madison — Gallons of confiscated liquor soon will be poured into the sewers of Madison. Harold Lambert, chief deputy in the state prohibition department, said today. The patent beverages have been accumulating in the vault of the department until it has become crowded.

Several hundred gallons of liquor, including moonshine, alcohol, synthetic gin and other intoxicants, are locked up in the vault. Some of the stuff seized from moonshiners is so vile that it is useless for any legitimate purpose. Mr. Lambert who is the department's chemist, said. A large number of bottles bear the labels of fine whiskeys and liquors, but tests showed that the labels and revenue stamps are counterfeit and that the contents were made from fermented molasses that had been redistilled. Many New Ideas in Better Buicks

Standard Six, five passenger two-door sedan

Greater Power, More Protection to Working Parts In- cluded; Prices Lower

Buick again demonstrated the marvelous resources and abilities of the automotive industry when it introduced the present Better Buick. Embraced in this latest Buick offering are additional power and strength, the newest engineering achievements designed to give even longer motor car life, thus maximum in comfort and safety, besides new beauty and refinements of design and finish representing the latest skill in body craftsmanship. And in face of these material and costly improvements lower prices are announced throughout the entire line of Standard and Master Sixes.

The announcement and the showing of the better Buicks silenced the rumors that Buick would abandon the valve-in-head for another type engine which would permit of cheaper construction. The same principles were inaugurated by Buick 21 years ago and which have made it

DODGE BROTHERS BEGIN PROGRAM FOR EXPANSION

Eight Millions Will Be Invested in New Buildings Before
Jan. 1

The largest expansion program in the history of Dodge Brothers, Inc., is now in progress. Continually overhauled since the business began, and particularly overhauled this year in spite of the fact that production has been consistently in excess of 1,100 cars a day, the management is determined to take extraordinary measures to meet the requirements of its dealers in 1926.

Five large new buildings are already under construction and three others will begin immediately, it is announced by F. J. Haynes, president and general manager.

The total floor area of the eight new buildings will exceed 8 1/2 of a million square feet and will afford employment for several thousand additional men. The cost of the expansion will be at approximately eight million dollars.

When the present construction program is completed, on January 1, 1926, Dodge Brothers, Inc., will have a capacity of 1,500 cars a day. The present intention is to go into full production on this basis the moment the new facilities are available.

Dodge Brothers construction department has erected every building in the enormous factory and similarly will be responsible for every detail of the present program. It is estimated that fully 1,000 men will be employed the rest of the year in the expansion project now under way.

When Dodge Brothers factory began operations late in 1914, it consisted of a few buildings with a total floor area of some 20 acres. Today it consists of 110 acres and the addition of the five new buildings will increase it to 130.

It will make Dodge Brothers one of the largest factories in the world. A complete series of new buildings, as large in itself as many factories, has already under construction on Lynch Road. One building, 75x500 feet, will house the heat treat department; another, also 75x500, the light hammer shop. A die shop, 100x312 will also be erected. To supply power for these enormous new units a large and thoroughly modern powerhouse will be built. Dozens of new railway tracks are already being laid, hundreds of workmen being employed in this project alone.

The largest of the additions to the main plant will be a six-story extension of assembly plant No. 2, 100x462 feet in dimensions. This addition alone will have a floor area of 232,000 square feet.

The new forge department on Lynch Road replaces a similar department in the main factory. The buildings which formerly housed it will make way for a huge five-story building, 205x100. This building will be for machining and storage purposes. What will be known as main plant No. 4, measuring 75x475, will join the machining and storage plant

Modern industry has found it necessary to reach out to the lands that produce the raw materials and to supervise production there to the end that the supply will be regular and commensurate with the factory demands. Conditions are improved both from the standpoint of the business and the dependent industries. This is particularly true of the rubber industry say Miller Engineers and while there are still great quantities of wild rubber sent to the rubber mills the greater percentage is from well cultivated and carefully arranged plantations.

"Wild" rubber is that which is taken from the jungles of Africa, the East Indies, South America and other tropical countries by the natives who gather it in no particularly well organized fashion. This rubber supply is shipped to the factories in bales and contains many impurities, as the natives are often not particularly careful of the gathering of the product.

This "wild" rubber is the small part of the rubber supply, the main portion coming from the plantations which are as meticulously cared for as are fruit orchards of the temperate zones. The impurities in the "wild" rubber are not to be found in the plantation rubber which is delivered to the manufacturers in sheets containing comparatively few impurities. The cotton which is used to build the cords for tires is carefully grown so that all the advantages of proper cultivation will accrue to the finished product. Cotton and good rubber are essential to the production of strong tires. In the past ten years there have been tremendous advances made in the care and scientific development of the sources of these raw materials.

Experts agree that the highest efficiency and the greater benefits are to be gained by proper attention to every detail in the manufacture of automobile tires from the source of the raw materials to the finished product.

MESSAGES LAUD NEW COACH OF PIERCE-ARROW

Most Graceful Closed Car Ever Designed, Many Patrons Say

Into the Pierce-Arrow factory during the last three weeks have poured hundreds of telegrams, telephone calls and letters congratulating President Myron E. Forbes up on the enthusiastic reception accorded the new Pierce-Arrow built Series 80 Coach.

In every city the advance showing of the newest Pierce-Arrow has drawn crowds of people who were interested in viewing the car which Pierce-Arrow officials had promised would be the equal of any Pierce-Arrow closed car in quality and in the comfort and richness of appointments, yet which would be priced nearly as low as the price of the open touring car model.

"Many people have told us that the new Coach is without doubt the most graceful closed car which Pierce-Arrow has ever designed," said Mr. Forbes. "The comments which we hear most are expressions of amazement that we could turn out a car so completely and so luxuriously appointed at so moderate a price."

Offered in six color options, the Pierce-Arrow Series 80 Coach represents a new note in coach design. The designers have taken full advantage of the opportunity for roominess offered by the 130-inch wheel base. Because of an ingenious arrangement, one can enter into the rear without disturbing the occupants of the front seats.

The body itself, built in the Pierce-Arrow plant, measures up in every detail of construction and finish, to the standard Pierce-Arrow car bodies. It is built of seasoned, straight-grained Northern White Ash and thick aluminum plates.

The Coach is truly an economy car. It is mounted on the standard Series 80 chassis, whose six-cylinder engine yields from 14 to 17 miles per gallon of gasoline. Four-wheel brakes, cushion tires and Houdaille governed spring suspension are among the many unusual features of equipment.

"No vicious motives lay behind their law breaking. It was just the thing to do—sort of a game. Most of them paid their fines with a laugh, when they happened to be caught, and admitted that the joke was on them."

"But now that the number of motor cars in service has increased to such a great extent, it is vitally important that traffic regulations be observed. With law and order governing their operation, there is almost no limit to the number of cars that can be accommodated on the rapidly multiplying good streets and roads. Without orderly driving, the limit will be reached in the very near future."

"In the same way, it is of utmost importance that traffic legislation be sensible, and that all regulations set up be practicable and not unnecessarily stringent."

"Many people blame the existence of crime partially to the great number of laws that have been created only to be half-remembered and never enforced. They say that such laws rob all other legislation of much of its power, and pave the way to what we know as 'crime waves'."

"In traffic regulation, at least, we should avoid making rules which are not expected to be observed. When we expect to allow motorists to drive

OBSERVANCE OF LAWS IS VITAL TO ALL DRIVERS

Traffic Legislation Should Be Sensible, Reid Dealer Believes

"As the number of motor cars on the streets and highways of the nation increases, it behooves good citizens, a majority of whom are motor car owners and drivers, to be particularly observant of traffic regulations," says Mr. Schneider, representative of the Reid Motor Car Company in this territory.

"In the past there have been a good many people who would have disobeyed the average local ordinance no sooner than they would have committed a crime of major importance, but who have regularly sidestepped traffic rules without a twinge of conscience."

"No vicious motives lay behind their law breaking. It was just the thing to do—sort of a game. Most of them paid their fines with a laugh, when they happened to be caught, and admitted that the joke was on them."

twenty miles per hour on city streets, we should not have ordinances which run fifteen miles an hour as the limit, and when thirty-five miles an hour are permissible on the highways, the laws should not say that thirty is the top rate of speed."

"Intelligently made regulations are vital to the welfare of the motor car and the car owner; and they should be welcomed and observed to the letter by every one who appreciates the comforts and conveniences of the automobile."

CHRYSLER PRICE UNDERGOES CUTS

Unexpected Announcement Made as Result of New Developments

Detroit—Walter P. Chrysler, president of the Chrysler Corporation, announces new and lower prices on the Chrysler Six, as well as a number of improvements and refinements in engineering design which raise this car to new performance peaks.

Included in the improvements are a motor of greater power and smoothness, a chassis of greater sturdiness and rigidity with greater use of alloy steels, and a group of the most attractive body designs and colorings.

"These refinements are but the natural and obvious results achieved by an organization that is not content to stand still," is Mr. Chrysler's comment on the new prices and developments of the Chrysler Six.

"When we first brought out this model we were greatly flattered to have it hailed as most nearly approximating six-cylinder perfection. However, our engineering and factory executives worked untiringly to improve the design of the car and our manufacturing methods. This notwithstanding the fact that the morning public held that our factory and our product was two years ahead of its time."

"Lengthy research and experimentation have enabled us to enhance the Chrysler Six performance qualities at the same time that application of further scientific manufacturing methods, combined with greater capacity production, has resulted in economies which have enabled us to reduce materially Chrysler Six prices."

OVERSIZE BATTERIES HAVE MANY ADVANTAGES

Prospective buyers of storage batteries often have a hard time deciding between several types of battery all suitable for their purpose. This is true, no matter what make of battery they choose to buy.

"We believe it is to the advantage of the user to have an oversize battery," says Mr. Schroeder of the Appleton Battery and Ignition Service Willard dealers. "Emergencies arise and the car equipped with an oversize battery is better prepared to meet them than the car with a standard or under capacity battery."

"This is so obvious that it is seldom questioned and the slight additional cost for the bigger battery is more than covered by the additional life it contains. One horse pulling a two-horse load will not last long. Two horses on the same load will grow fat on the job and always have the reserve strength to meet emergencies. The same is true of batteries."

"The reputation of Dodge Brothers motor car and the character of Dodge Brothers dealer organization, plus our determination to make a good car continually better, leaves no possible doubt as to our future market," said President Haynes. "Our only fear is that even 1500 cars a day will be insufficient for the requirements of 1926."

IN WHICH WE GIVE ADVICE TO MR. SCHEPP

An eastern man of wealth, Schepp by name, has invited suggestions from the public as to how he may best dispose of a fortune which he has accumulated and does not want. He has had to run before the cloudburst of answers, advice on such subjects being singularly easy to obtain and most answers containing an appeal bordering on the personal.

And yet, a greater pleasure than the use of a large amount of money for the benefit of the public generally could hardly be imagined. However great the amount at Mr. Schepp's disposal, it will be found that it will not go far unless very judiciously handled. Money has a way of disappearing like water out of a leaky pail.

If it were divided among the people of a community, it would bring but a relatively small amount to each person. If a million dollars were divided among the people of this county it would bring but about $15.00 to each person, and if disposed of in that manner might be quickly wasted and do little good. More could be accomplished by limiting the advantages of the fortune to a smaller number so that the benefits of the use of the money could be more readily ascertained and recorded for future similar experimentation.

Locally we have been greatly benefited by the generosity of citizens in presenting the community with spacious parks, splendid playgrounds and wonderful public buildings. If a benefactor were to use the money hereabouts with the idea in mind of benefiting the largest number for the longest period of time, he would attempt the great and arduous task of building an industry based upon merit with a maximum spirit of generosity, — but charged with the duty and the slogan of "Education", not book education but the finer and the more lasting education of practical experience. The effect would not merely be to provide work, even under the most satisfactory conditions of body and mind, but the entire purpose would be centered upon educating those engaged in the work, and in whatever rank or place in the work, in the very broad field that is ahead for those who work and keep their eyes open.

It takes a benefactor with a large cash balance in the bank to give due attention to the essentials which we have in mind. The ordinary man who is building a business is too much worried about meeting the next payroll or paying for the next carload of raw materials or for the repairs, taxes and other constant, incidental expenses of the business in addition to the burden of disposing of his finished material. The benefactor with a large cash balance in the bank, sufficient so that he may establish an industry that starts out without any financial obligations, has a freedom of movement ordinarily not vouchsafed to any person in an industrial position.

The purpose of the benefactor would be to so employ the money in some standard industry that it would produce sufficient profits to pay excellent remuneration to those engaged in the work and to accumulate enough of a surplus so that those employed might, depending upon the length of time employed and the nature of their services, earn a share of the surplus which would become their own in such a manner that it might be disposed of by them either by transfer in their lifetime or by testamentary disposition. It would be necessary that the ownership of the property itself be held in trust so that it might benefit succeeding generations in the same manner. Merely giving it to certain people or a class of persons at one time practically ends its public benefactions after the passing of the receiving generation.

Such an industry so established, and particularly one with sufficient capital, would permit experimentation with certain theories of the relations of the office and the shop, of the employer and employee, so-called. Rotating upon the board of directors several of the employees at stated intervals so that they might learn at first hand the puzzles, the struggles, the annoyances and the burdens of the office, and the office by its association with such directors thus becoming familiar with the trying problems of the shop, has long been a theory of many which seems upon the face of it sound. The kind of education thus gained by each group ought to do wondrous good in any community.

Here too would be the great opportunity of teaching both the office and the shop, the managers and the workers, the necessity of careful business principles in the operation of every business or industry, principles that must be adhered to tenaciously and without exception, principles that are seldom well understood outside the well regulated office. Not alone the principles of honesty and frankness in all dealings and at every corner, but the principles of caution and safety, the necessity of reserves to fall back upon, the duty of foreseeing probabilities and providing even for the unforeseen contingencies.

And no business could be established upon the basis of education that did not provide with exceptional care to protect the employee from the quick sands of injudicious investments. It does little good to work and to save and to lose the results of industry and economy by buying bubbles. The greatest economical loss in America today is in the hundreds of millions of dollars that are wasted annually through fake, wild cat, or fraudulent investment schemes. The very air is sometimes full of them. Barring the trivial percentage where misfortune sits at some man's door all his life, there is no reason why any person who arrives at old age should not have sufficient investments of a sound nature, purchased from his savings, so as to insure him care and comfort during the years when he needs those things most and so that the sunset of his life might be like the ending of a pleasant voyage rather than as is so often the case, beset with the harshness and tragedies of want and privation.

The greatest benefit that could come from the use of money for the purposes outlined above could be obtained because the time, the thoughts, and the efforts of those engaged in the industry would not be completely taken up, as they are in most instances in actual life, by the necessities and demands of the business itself.

Or, if the foregoing method did not meet Mr. Schepp's approval, there is another one that rises easily to mind. There is in northern Wisconsin and Michigan tens of thousands of acres of fertile soil which has been patiently awaiting the plow for centuries. In large areas it could be purchased at a very small price. The benefactor could have every bit of it examined and analyzed so that the farming of it would not be a gamble but it would be known beforehand to what purposes the soil could best be put to advantage.

Dividing such property up and selling it in set sizes to actual bona fide settlers, at cost, over a very long period of time and financing the settlers in order to give them a start, would be a splendid work of public benefaction. One of the great disadvantages of farming has been interest rates. Farmers generally pay more in interest rates than the farming industry justifies. Putting interest rates down to the very bottom, making allowances for bad seasons, permitting the owners of the property to pay for the property over a very long period of time, financing them with stock and machinery and aiding them, with scientific advice in their industry, co-operating with them in disposing of their product at the best possible price—all this would be a splendid benefaction. At the same time it would be merely a loan to the farmers, but under such circumstances that its repayment would be certain, and when repaid the benefactor could move on and buy new areas and repeat the process. In this way homes would grow and there would be created those sturdy citizens of tanned complexion and honest eye that have always been a nation's pride.

This, of course, is a soliloquy and yet it is not true, that a man with a million or ten million could follow either one of the forks outlined above and have his wealth constantly returning through the generations and again put to a similar practical use?

Giving away a fortune is a dangerous business. It may, unless carefully planned and supervised, do more evil than good.

HAIR DYES
If a doctor fared forth today with the kind of whiskers the medical fathers wore we'd suspect him as some kind of quack on mischief bent. People have nice gray or white hair and a nifty black mustache. Old fashioned folk are still inclined to frown at the woman whose hair turns from gray to black brown or red, or from dark to tawny color over night. And yet there is no good reason why a doctor should not hide behind a bunch of spinach if he feels embarrassed about barefaced practice and no good reason why a woman should not bleach or dye her hair to suit her own whims. If the use of hair dye will enable anybody to hold down a good job or otherwise remain a contender in the big race, it is pretty small business for any one to question the propriety of the act. If a man or woman looks or feels younger with the aid of such an artifice it is his or her privilege to take advantage of it.

For decolorizing or bleaching hair, peroxide (hydrogen dioxide solution) is universally employed. Besides bleaching the hair peroxide makes the hair rather lifeless and dry. But practically all of the hair dyes do so too. Except the vegetable pigments, all hair dyes tend to injure the hair, but none of them seriously affects the growth of the hair, unless the dye sets up dermatitis (skin inflammation) of the scalp. Hair that has been chemically bleached or dyed tends to become shorter because the ends break more rapidly when the hair is dry and lifeless.

Fifteen out of 16 alleged "hair tonics" or "restorers" tested by the chemists contain lead. Even the use of a solution of lead acetate (sugar of lead) as a hair dye is not necessarily dangerous—thousands of persons have their hair dyed with nostrums which are nothing but sugar of lead with or without some sulphur—but the frequent or repeated application of such a dye is a possible source of chronic lead poisoning.

Silver nitrate (lunar caustic) is the essential ingredient of many nostrums which purport to "restore the original color" to black or brown hair which has turned gray. Of course that is more humbug, for the silver nitrate only stains the hair black just as it does the skin under the influence of sunlight. The silver nitrate, however, is comparatively nonpoisonous.

Copper salts are used in some honest hair dyes and some fake hair color "restorers" to give a brown color to the hair—and copper is comparatively harmless.

Cadmium, nickel, and cadmium are other mineral substances used in various honest hair dyes or fake "restorers," and various combinations give various hues, none of the chemicals being very harmful.

Henna is a coloring matter used to dye wood to resemble mahogany. For dyeing hair reddish it is ordinarily harmless. If a brown color is desired, usually some indigo is mixed with the henna. (Some nostrums purporting to be henna in reality contain copper and other mineral ingredients).

A dangerous dye is the coal tar or anilin derivative called paraphenylenediamine, which is rapid in action, both as a dye and as a systemic poison; the poisoning being produced by inhalation of the paraphenylenediamine.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Raw Food.
Are uncooked potatoes eaten with the skins on, and uncooked prunes as good as when cooked? (H. W. G.)
Answer.—Personally I think potatoes are better when baked with the skins on—and I prefer the skins to their contents. It is rather a healthful habit, however, to eat some such raw vegetables every day if you like them so. Make sure the potatoes are thoroughly washed and eat away to your stomach's content. Of course raw prunes are quite as wholesome as cooked prunes.

Appendicitis.
Is there any known cure for appendicitis other than operation? Is it not a fact that some cases of appendicitis are brought on by a strain, such as lifting too much? (T. R. B.)
Answer.—Numerous other things purport to be cures or remedies, but when I had appendicitis I bled me in dignified haste to the operating table and thanked heaven for modern surgery. I doubt that such strain can cause appendicitis, though it might excite or aggravate an attack if the appendix is already diseased.

UNCOVER CITY OF ANCIENT DAY IN TENNESSEE
Cisco Was Believed to Be Center of Civilization Once Flourishing Here

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.
Washington, D. C.—The ancient civilizations of the United States always have been more or less a mystery. Archaeological enterprise has unearthed much in the old world, but until lately the North American continent has guarded the secrets of its early inhabitants.

Within the past decade, however, there has been considerable activity along these lines. Scientists have been looking into the past and have uncovered civilizations of many centuries ago. Some have been revealed in Central America; some in Mexico, but the late William Edward Meyer uncovered a civilization in Tennessee which has led to a new field of study.

Near the little railroad station of Pinson, in Madison-co., he discovered a city. This was the city of Cisco, center of a civilization that once flourished in North America.

It was a walled city with outer defenses measuring fully six miles in length, with elaborate outer and inner citadels. There are 35 mounds of various sizes.

HAD MODERN PATTERN
Meyer visited the site in 1916. He found the remains of Cisco in the thickets and swamps and woodlands along the south fork of the Forked Deer river in Madison and Chester counties. It was a central metropolis with outlying towns and villages, much like the modern city and its suburbs. The city itself and the adjoining towns were so close together that doubtless their cultivated fields and small isolated truck patches formed a more or less continuous cultivated community for a distance of approximately twelve miles.

Cisco extends along the high banks or bluffs of the Forked Deer river from two to three miles. It probably was defended on the river side by a continuous line of wooden palisades along the edge of the high banks. The river offered further protection on this side. There then is a great swamp extending the length of the town on the opposite bank of the river.

On the land side there was a long line of earthen walls surmounted by wooden palisades. The total length of the outer defenses was over six miles. The walls of the inner citadel and the other inner defenses add approximately another mile to the total. Cultivation of fields has removed many of these earthen embankments, but several old inhabitants of the region remember when they existed. In the undisturbed forests and thickets they remain. Of course all trace of wooden palisades has long since vanished.

The 35 mounds of Cisco that offer themselves for observation range from very low rises to fair heights. Some of them are not over one foot high, and then the great central mound in the inner citadel is seven-three feet high.

WAS CAPITAL
There is evidence that Cisco was the central city and capital of a large region; that it had a population of several thousand and was built by some conqueror king. It was occupied only for a brief period after its completion. The conqueror king was then overthrown and his stronghold taken and destroyed. It was left desolate and never afterward occupied.

ANCIENT TRAILS FROM CISCO
There was an ancient trail that led from Cisco southwestward to another old fortified town near Bolivar, Tennessee. At Bolivar the trail forked. One prong led to the old Indian crossing of the Mississippi River at the mouth of Wolf River, the site of the modern Memphis. From here the trail ran to the ancient Indian towns in Arkansas and the Southwest.

The other prong led from the city near Bolivar in a southerly direction, running along Pontotoc Ridge, near the modern town of Pontotoc, Mississippi. From there it ran along the high lands west of the Tombigbee River to other ancient cities in the Mobile Bay region.

There was also another trail leading westward, crossing the Tennessee River near modern Johnsonville; thence to the Great Mound group on Harpeth River at the mouth of Dog Creek, and from there to another group of ancient towns in the vicinity of Nashville.

This evidence shows the existence of an ancient civilization, with a network of communication and transportation. It shows that these people were versed in agriculture, religion, strategic defense in war, and had some knowledge of architecture. Also it is highly probable that there was intercourse between the various centers of this civilization. Invaders and time have wiped out most of the traces of this race which, in all probability, antedated the Indians.

These men are just beginning to fathom the depths of primitive America. The Tennessee discoveries, coupled with those in Central America, Mexico and in other portions of the United States, are gradually telling the story of the first possessors of the Western Hemisphere.

1926 MAY HAVE NO SUMMERTIME
Long Range Weather Prophets Warn Against Failure of Grain Crops Next Year

Will it rain Oct. 17, 1945? Or will it be safe to plan on a picnic for your mother-in-law's birthday in 1938? Although long range weather forecasting has not been developed to the extent that it can answer these questions, what development has taken places has been sure.

Modern weather prophets are not interest primarily in the weather for tomorrow or next week. They seek knowledge of what we can expect four, five and even ten years from now. And they are basing their predictions on measurements of the sun's heat. These changes in the temperature of the sun effect us to the extent that a change of a fraction of one per cent in this heat will be felt by us on the earth.

It has been interesting to note that a large percentage of prophecies for the last few years have worked out. But, of course, what we are most interested in at the present time is the forecast concerning the years 1926-1927. These are to be the danger years.

The grain harvest of North and South America are threatened. It is predicted that if there should be any great volcanic disturbances in 1926, filling the upper air with clouds of dust, we will further shut off the sun's heat, we will have the final blow in insuring recurrence of 1816, the year without a summer.

Attention is called to the fact that not only does the period of 1926-1927 represent a recurrence of the important 55.6 year sunspot maximum, the second since 1816, but every 270 to 275 years comes a coincidence of adverse weather conditions all over the world, with inevitable crop failures and famines. The period 1926-1927 will be the sixth 271-year cycle from the great Famine of Diocletian in the years 293-300 A. D.

At Bolivar the trail forked. One prong led to the old Indian crossing of the Mississippi River at the mouth of Wolf River, the site of the modern Memphis. From here the trail ran to the ancient Indian towns in Arkansas and the Southwest.

The other prong led from the city near Bolivar in a southerly direction, running along Pontotoc Ridge, near the modern town of Pontotoc, Mississippi. From there it ran along the high lands west of the Tombigbee River to other ancient cities in the Mobile Bay region.

There was also another trail leading westward, crossing the Tennessee River near modern Johnsonville; thence to the Great Mound group on Harpeth River at the mouth of Dog Creek, and from there to another group of ancient towns in the vicinity of Nashville.

This evidence shows the existence of an ancient civilization, with a network of communication and transportation. It shows that these people were versed in agriculture, religion, strategic defense in war, and had some knowledge of architecture. Also it is highly probable that there was intercourse between the various centers of this civilization. Invaders and time have wiped out most of the traces of this race which, in all probability, antedated the Indians.

These men are just beginning to fathom the depths of primitive America. The Tennessee discoveries, coupled with those in Central America, Mexico and in other portions of the United States, are gradually telling the story of the first possessors of the Western Hemisphere.

FEDERAL MONEY BOOSTS ROADS
Government Aided in Construction of Nearly 10,000 Miles of Highway Last Year
Nine thousand four hundred and forty-five miles of federal-aid road was brought to completion during the fiscal year ending June 30. An additional 4,587 miles is reported completed but has not been finally inspected and accepted, according to the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture.

The outstanding result of the year's work has been the large mileage of continuous highway routes made available. It practically every state goes in through routes have been closed and many extensions made. Probably the most notable project opened to traffic is the Wendover cut-off across the Great Salt Lake desert, which has removed an age-old obstacle to transcontinental traffic. All of the construction has been on the designated 175,000-mile federal-aid highway system which is to serve as the main road system for the nation. At the beginning of the fiscal year 35,452 miles had been completed with federal aid, and the year's work brings the total to more than 46,000 miles in service, since a considerable portion of the 17,123 miles reported as under construction has already been opened to traffic.

Texas led in mileage completed during the year with 784 miles, followed by South Dakota with 458 miles, Illinois with 431 miles and Minnesota with 423 miles.

The Bible is now translated into 572 languages.
More than 800,000 women and girls in London are employed in business and professions.

The Question Box

Q. Where can one get information on how to pack goods for foreign shipment? H. T. A.
A. The Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce issues an elaborate handbook on packing for export markets.
Q. Who designed the Vatican? R. H. A.
A. The Vatican is not the work of one architect. It was built, and added to during a period of many years. Pope Symmachus was the first to build a residence on this site. Nicholas V (1447-55) began a systematic policy of improving the Vatican and this was continued by the succeeding Popes. The palace covers about 1312 acres and is said to contain over 1100 rooms. The buildings are of different styles and epochs joined together by many architects. Among the most noted architects and artists represented are Raphael, Michelangelo, Bramante, Bernini, San Gallo, Perino, Della Porta, Vasari, Varese and Fontana.

Q. Where is the largest Quaker college in the United States? C. H.
A. Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana, is the largest. It is coeducational and has about 500 students.

Q. How many officers were there in the Regular Army when the World War began? R. F. C.
A. There were 600. The increase in size of the Army to 4,000,000 meant increasing officers to 200,000, since in our Army there is one officer to every 20 men.

Q. Who was the first woman in America to demand a vote? O. S.
A. This distinction belongs to Margaret Brent of Maryland.

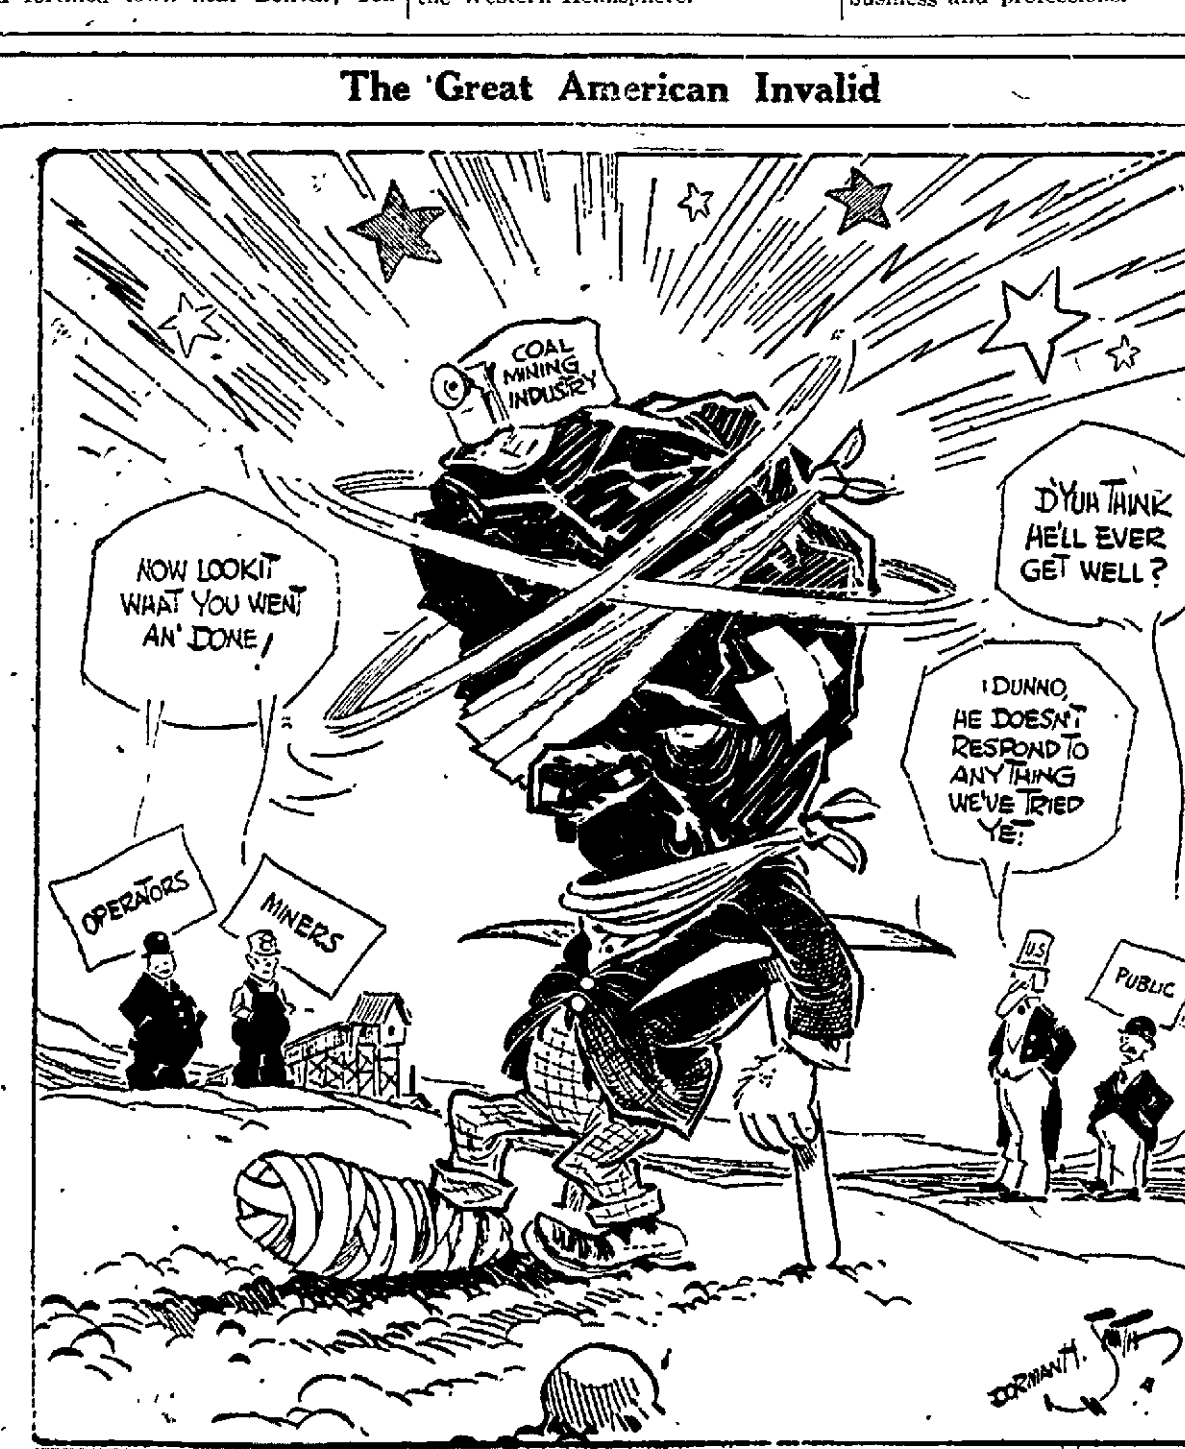

Q. How many physicians are there in China? C. O. M.
A. Only an estimate is available. It is believed that there are about 4000 trained native physicians and 1500 foreign doctors.

Q. Who was the first Major General appointed by the Continental Congress? B. T. N.
A. Artemus Ward.

Q. Was mica or isinglass known to the Indians? G. O. J.
A. Mica was well known in prehistoric America, and traces of its use are wide spread. It was in general use by the Indians east of the Great Plains and was mined in many parts of the Appalachian highlands. It was used for making personal ornaments and also for ceremonial. Sheets of mica were often placed over the dead in burial.

Q. Did England pay France for trenches and entrance duties on supplies and equipment for her army? A. C.
A. The following question and answer was made in the house of commons by Sir Robert Horne, a member of the government: (a) "Colonel L. Ward asked the chancellor of the exchequer the total sum paid by this country to France from 1914 to 1920, inclusive, for railway services, docks and harbour dues, billeting, rent of houses, hotels and public buildings, rent of trenches, compensation for damage and disturbance, in short all services connected with the War. (b) Sir R. Horne.—A very rough calculation shows the amount in question to be approximately 32,000,000 pounds. It would not be possible to give exact figures under the various heads without a disproportionate amount of labor and expense. I ought, however, to point out that compensation was not paid in respect to trenches dug in forward areas in France."

Q. How does the amount of gasoline being used now compare with the amount used last spring? W. C. E.
A. For the month of March, 1924, 467,181,088 gallons of gasoline were consumed and for the month of March 1925, 620,635,551 gallons.

Girls Learn To Preserve In Tin Cans

A group of ten girls met at the home of Mrs. Herman Ihde, route 10, Neenah, Friday afternoon and organized a tin-can canning club. Miss Evelyn Ihde was elected president; Miss Julia Salm, vice president; Miss Leona Lindsey, secretary and Miss Marie Phillips, treasurer. Wilbur Sparks of Neenah was in charge of the organization work and Mrs. Stewart was a guest of honor.

At the meeting Friday afternoon, the girls canned 19 quarts of vegetables including green beans, yellow wax beans, carrots and beets. The girls brought their own vegetables and canned them themselves. The feature of the work of the club is the sealing of tin cans with special sealers, converting the kitchens into modern canning factories, using the same cans and sealing them the same way. The girls will be prepared to can meats, fruits and vegetables, many of which have before this time gone to waste.

All the girls are from the community of Gillingham corners and live within a radius of four miles of each other. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ihde again, and it is expected that at that time five new members will join the club. A committee has been appointed to choose a name for the club. It is composed of Leona Neuman, Julia Salm and Evelyn Ihde. Next Friday, after the vegetables are prepared and are boiling, the girls will play volleyball, and in this way there will be amusement as well as a study period. Margaret Ihde is in charge of the recreation.

Girls Take Hikes And Boat Trips

Hiking and boating trips have been enjoyable features in the outdoor life of the girls camping at Onaway island, Waupaca, during the last week, according to word received from the camp. Tuesday an eight mile hike was taken around some of the small lakes of the chain. The girls started this hike early in the morning and got back to camp in time for a late dinner. Camp songs were sung on the hike, and an hour was devoted to the study of nature under the instruction of Ruth Ryan, nature counselor. All the girls at the camp went on this hiking trip.

A boat trip down Beaulieu creek was the big event on Wednesday. The girls were taken through several lakes to the mouth of the creek in a big launch. The trip down the wild, narrow, winding creek was made in rowboats. On this trip the campers took their dinners with them and returned about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Every evening a tent group of girls is taken over to Otter creek about half a mile from the island where they cook their own supper, and thus learn camp cooking and how to make cooking utensils from the rude materials furnished by Mother Nature.

Thursday evening a camp birthday party was held, not to celebrate the birthday of any girl at camp, but rather to observe the third birthday of the camp itself, as this is the third summer the women's club has conducted a camp at Onaway island. Each tent group gave a vaudeville act in connection with this affair.

Many of the girls have passed their second swimming test, which is the sunfish test. Passing of this test entitles the girls to swim in deep water, a shallow beach and the other a deep water beach. Girls who cannot swim, and those who can swim only a short distance must use the shallow beach.

In the sun fish test a girl must swim for ten minutes at a time. Some of the girls who could not swim a stroke when they went to the island learned to swim in a day or two, according to word from the camp.

ADMIT SHE SET 34 FARM FIRES

Alienists Will Be Called to Test Sanity of Mrs. Elizabeth Eiden

Stevens Point—The mystery surrounding the 34 fires at the farm home and barn of Mathias M. Eiden at Ellis, near here, two weeks ago, was solved Friday with the confession of Mrs. Elizabeth Eiden, wife of the farm owner, that she set the fires.

Mrs. Eiden is being held under observation of physicians at the county jail. The confession was made to Dist. Atty. W. E. Atwell, Sheriff D. H. Parks and Deputy State Fire Marshall Boyd C. Ladd of Eau Claire. Mrs. Eiden said she was assisted in starting all but the first fire by her youngest sons, Joseph, 10, and James, 8. No plausible reason was given by her for the acts.

An investigation has been under way ever since the fires occurred. Mrs. Eiden was examined earlier this week for her sanity and pronounced sane. The proofs were continued by Ladd, resulting in the confession. If the woman is found sane after a second examination, a warrant will be asked charging arson, Mr. Atwell said.

AUTO STRIKES CHILD ON ROAD

George Schuh, Son of Farmer, Suffers Scalp Wound in Accident

Crossing a street in front of a moving automobile, George Schuh, 7-year-old son of George Schuh, Sr., route 5, Appleton, was injured by being struck by a car driven by Walter C. Trettin, 312 N. Richmond-st., at about 9:15 Saturday morning on E. Pacific-st. The boy suffered a scalp wound of about two inches on the left side of the head.

Mr. Schuh was selling fruit from his wagon and was accompanied by his son. The latter was just crossing from the south curb to the north curb of the street between N. Union and N. Bateman-sts. when Trettin, driving from the west, came upon him suddenly.

The boy was flung forcefully to the pavement and the gash was cut in his scalp. The police ambulance was called, but Mr. Trettin had already taken the boy to a surgeon's office.

GUN VICTIM IS FATHER, LONG MISSING, BELIEF

Oshkosh—Mrs. Rollin Trendinick, Oshkosh, believes that Louis Nelson found dead near the Soo line tracks at Park Falls, is her father, from whom no word has been received for 20 years. Nelson, 65, was found dead, with a new revolver with one chamber empty beside him. He is said to have purchased the revolver himself. Mrs. Trendinick said her father left this city when she was still a baby and never returned. However, she indirectly knew that he was in the northern part of the state. The name of the dead man and his age coincides with that of her father.

VALLEY KNIGHTS TEMPLAR MEET HERE SEPT. 26

Commandery Here Will Be Host at Annual Field Day of Lodges

Between 200 and 300 Knights Templar in uniform, representing six commanderies of Fox River Valley will be guests of Appleton commandery No. 29 in this city on Sept. 26, when the local lodge will sponsor the district field day meet. The gathering will be held at Pierce park and the day's doings will be completed by a grand ball and supper at Masonic temple in the evening. Commanderies from Berlin, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Manitowish Green Bay and Menasha will be represented.

Two years ago the district meet was held in Oshkosh and last year at Menasha. The spirit of fellowship and brotherly feeling brought about by the meeting of the commanderies participating called forth much favorable comment from the Grand Commandery. The grand jurisdiction is divided into eight districts of approximately six commanderies each and the meets are under the direction of the inspector general.

The general committee for the affair consists of Edward M. Gorrov, eminent commander, W. B. Basing, Olin Mead and Herman Wildhagen. George R. Wettengel will be marshal for the parade of the commanderies. The Rev. J. A. Holmes will officiate at the banquet. A meeting of all local Knights Templar and especially the committee for the occasion will be held at 7:30 Monday evening at Masonic temple to make further plans for the day.

CUBS TROUNCED
BY PAPER NINE IN DUSK BATTLE

HILLTOPS AND BLACK SOX TIED

Papermakers Batted Mereness All Over Lot for Score of 4 to 2

Kaukauna—Thilmany baseballers brought their heavy batteries into position Friday evening in a battle against the league leading Cubs and when the smoke cleared away the papermakers were on the long end of a 4 to 2 score. It was the second defeat of the year for the Cubs and brought them within a half game of the Utilities department. The Cubs were somewhat crippled by the absence of three or four of their players, who have gone to training camps.

The papermakers were out for blood and they apparently found Mereness' offerings to their liking for they patted the pill for a total of 11 bingles, two of which were two basers. All the others were hard hit blows. The Cubs got to Royal Stegeman for seven safeties, one being a double and another a freak home run by Slama.

DRAW BLOOD
The papermakers drew blood in the first spasm when they chased across a counter with two singles. The Cubs tied the count in their half of the second chapter when Slama drove a nail one to the center field fence. Although the pill rolled under the wires the hit would have been good for only two bases had not Engerson, in his haste to throw in the ball, let it slip behind him. By the time he recovered Slama was across the platter.
After that things went along smoothly until the sixth frame. Both teams put men on the sacks but good work by the pitchers and sterling support by his mates killed all runners before they reached home. Each team executed a double killing which took their pitcher out of bad holes.

LEDDY WALKS
Mereness paved the way for his downfall in the first of the sixth when he walked Leddy, first up. Engerson followed with a high double to the left field fence and Leddy scored. "Robbin' Minkebig" also came through with a blow and he scored with Engerson on Falstrom's two baser. Those three runs clinched the victory, for the Cubs were able to score only once in their half when Phillips opened with a double to the fence and scored on Smith's drive into right field.
Mereness was a little off form Friday evening and he was not as effective as usual. Besides allowing 11 bingles he walked three batters. Stegeman pitched masterly ball for Thilmany and although he was nicked for seven clouts, he kept them fairly well scattered. Nine Cub batters went down before his offerings and he didn't walk a man. Mereness sent down six hitters via the strikeout method.

Mayor Farona and members of the city council will arrive at Clintonville Monday to inspect a fire truck of the Clintonville Four Wheel Drive company and witness a demonstration of its efficiency. The council is now considering the purchase of a fire truck, having delayed action since the referendum on the question was passed favorably at the spring election.

Another township exhibit is to be made at the county fair this fall. Superintendent of Schools O. K. Evenson is assisting town boards and their organized committees to make it a success. With $300 appropriated by the county for the purpose of making a county exhibit at the state fair, the following will act as a committee for this work: E. E. Russell, Ogdensburg; Oscar Smith, Dayton; John Krusack.

"SIX NATIONS" TO INSTALL 18 ONEIDA CHIEFS

Indian Tribes Will Join in Ceremonies of Rehabilitation Program Aug. 20

Oneida—Plans have just been completed for the installation ceremonies of 18 chiefs of the Oneida nation, Aug. 20.

This is one of the final steps in the rehabilitation program of the Six Nations. The ceremony will be conducted by chiefs of the Onondaga nation.

The occasion will be made one of reunion for all the Oneidas and many guests of the Six Nations have been invited.

It will be conducted under the auspices of the Oneida national committee in a grove at Oneida, where there is a natural amphitheater.

The ceremonies will occupy an entire day, and in the evening there will be a performance by Princess White Deer, the famous Mohawk dancer who has starred on Broadway. Other Indian talent will assist with music.

"We are happy that we have a right to make something of ourselves," said Mrs. O. J. Kellogg, Oneida leader, "and we want to use it the way we used to. Rehabilitation is a bigger word to us than any recovery we of the Six Nations might have in the land suit in New York, although, of course, the latter will help some."

He stated that the freight going through the local depot is equal in proportion to that of any other depot on the Ashland division.

STAGE And SCREEN

"THE AIR MAIL"
PARAMOUNT FILM
The once little thought of air mail, now pioneering the way in commercial aviation and demonstrating that it is practicable to operate cargo carrying planes on schedule time over vast distances, day and night, winter and summer, becomes a screen thriller at the Fischer's Appleton next week in Paramount's "The Air Mail," produced by Irvin Willat from the original screen story by Byron Morgan, who wrote "Code of the Sea" and "The Sign of the Cross."

Warner Baxter, Billie Dove, Mary Brian and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., have featured roles in the production, adapted for the screen by James Shelley Hamilton.

We can't imagine anything more fascinating or thrilling than the picture flight of the fearless air mailman as they "carry on" in all kinds of weather to bring the mail through on schedule time—some even going so far as to give their lives in the service.

The picture has to do with Warner Baxter, in the role of Russ Kane, master-mind crook who becomes a mail pilot to rob the planes and winds up by routing his former cronies and marrying a beautiful girl.

Scenes of the picture take place at Sacramento and Reno, two big stations along the air route and in a "deserted city" where Billie Dove and her father, victims of a poor real estate deal, live. Kane is forced down near Billie's home during a storm. He meets her, and from then on they are the very best of friends.

Later, Kane is "winged" by two bandit planes and vol-planes to earth on the desert, where with Billie Dove and Fairbanks, Jr., he gives the crooks the fight of their lives. The picture comes to a close with the arrival of a sheriff's posse and capture of the thieves.

Playing in support of the leading players in the picture are George Irving, Gus Oliver, Dick Tucker, Lee Shumway and others.

CORINNE GRIFFITH HERE SOON IN GREAT FILM, "DECLASSE"
Corinne Griffith Production, Inc., announces that "Declasse," which First National will offer at the Elite Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; is the most pretentious work of Miss Griffith's individual producing career. It advances the following facts in substantiation of this statement:

"Declasse" was originally written in play form by Zoe Atkins for Ethel Barrymore, and that star found it a highly successful vehicle, not only for a long run on Broadway but an extended tour, as well, thus proving its entertainment value.

It was this proof, as well as the ideal role it afforded, which prompted Miss Griffith to purchase the screen rights. And she has surrounded herself with a supporting cast of unusual proportions for picture. Included are many names which, themselves, have enjoyed the supremacy of the stellar lights—Clive Brook, Lloyd Hughes, whose recent promise work caused First National to place him under a five-year contract; Louise Fazenda, former Keystone comedienne, and others.

ALICE CALHOUN HAS HER TROUBLES IN IMPERSONATING COLORED JANTON
Most young folks enjoy blacking up for an amateur theatricals, and Alice Calhoun experienced the same thrill when Director David Divad informed her that she was required to impersonate a 350 pound negro for scene of "A Girl's Desire," which will be shown at the New Bijou Theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

Alice weighs about 113 pounds, and she had a difficult time padding out to fill the bill. Then came the thrill of burning cork over a candle and rubbing it on the face.

But the real thrill came in a later sequence when Alice as the heroine bursts into a room full of girls and has a battle royal.

It was a far different scene that Alice left when the day's work was finished. She fought with each of the girls, springing upon them like a panther. She carried one girl to the floor with her weight and then sprang upon another.

"I blackened them up in the fight," was Alice's comment. "I pulled hair and tore dresses and I used all the jiu-jitsu stunts I knew. We sure did make it realistic. I was all bruised from the fight and lame for days; but it did not keep me from working."

AUTO INDUSTRY IS BY NO MEANS AT ITS HEIGHT

Babson Sees It Becoming More Established, With a Few More Mergers

Babson Park, Mass.—The Babson Institute has been making a study of the automobile industry and Mr. Bab-son has released a digest of the conclusions reached. The official statement is as follows:

"The most salient fact evident in any present study of the automobile industry is that its development has defied all prophets and has exceeded the most optimistic hopes. In the early years of the industry the auto was believed to be only a fad to be owned by the wealthy. Twenty-five years ago automobiles were looked upon as we consider airplanes today.
When it finally was discovered that the automobile had practical value, then bankers began to talk about the 'saturation point.' Every year the bankers stated that the following year automobiles would reach their saturation point and the industry would begin to decline. Of course no trees grow to the skies and some time the automobile industry may reach its maximum development, but all the pessimists have been disappointed up to the present time. The following annual figures on the production of cars show the situation for the past ten years.

Year	Passenger Cars	Trucks
1915	818,618	74,000
1916	1,525,578	92,130
1917	1,740,782	123,157
1918	928,388	227,250
1919	1,657,652	316,364
1920	1,833,158	322,039
1921	1,514,000	147,550
1922	2,408,386	252,665
1923	3,634,237	393,760
1924	3,242,285	374,317

PRESENT CONDITIONS

"Of course, conditions are very different than they were a few years ago. Prices are being cut, costs are being cut, less money is being spent on advertising and selling, there are fewer changes in models, consolidations are taking place, and various other factors are developing which are unpleasant to many people. On the other hand these changes are mostly for the benefit of the consumers and should ultimately be good for the industry. This all signifies that the business is becoming stabilized.
What was once a luxury, has become a necessity; and what was once a fad is becoming a staple. This means that there are smaller profits but that the business is on a much sounder basis.
The fact has also been proven that 'once an auto' always an auto,' which insures repeats and replacement orders. The new generation of young people is being brought up with the idea that an automobile is as necessary as a sewing machine or a bathroom.

"Consider the fact that about two million people are being born every year in the United States, and the average life of a car is not over seven years, it will be seen that the replacement automobile business has great possibilities. It is said that certain companies are almost able to pay their dividends merely from the sale of parts and other accessory lines. Therefore the industry is here to stay and is gradually getting on a sound basis. Of course, there will be many more consolidations. There is no sense in having so many different makes of cars. Gradually these will be brought together and there will be fewer companies, resulting in reduced selling and advertising costs, which are now a great factor. It, however, should be remembered that even today the automobile is defying the trend of other products. Where in the case of most manufactured articles the purchaser is getting less today for a dollar than he did ten years ago, the reverse is true in the case of the automobile. Not only is the automobile improved every year, but prices are declining notwithstanding

Last Half Of Year Has Good Business Outlook

BY JOHN T. FLYNN

New York—With the ending of July, the first month in the second half of the year comes to an end. It furnishes a good key to what we may expect in the last section of 1925. Of course being a summer month with a general letting down in business the mere figures for the month's operations are hardly significant. But the indications are quite plain. It seems sufficiently sure that manufacturing activities will increase and continue increasing for the balance of the year.
Retail trade promises to show still higher levels, new enterprises and the expansion of older concerns is expected under the stimulation of increased trade and abundant money though it is believed money will stiffen a little but not sufficient to have any effect on business.

If we leave out the wheat crop, the outlook on the farm is anything but dark. In other words the prospect for 95 per cent of our farm activities is good. Crops are approaching the peak of a price cycle. Prices are recovering in the truck line, and while the winter wheat crop was short the prospect is for more yield in spring wheat.

In the meantime trade shows up briskly as reflected in the operations of the railroads. For the first time this year the million mark was reached last week in the loading of freight cars.

WHOLESALE TRADE
A report just issued by the Federal Reserve Board throws some light on the situation in the wholesale business. The complaints from this field have been very lively, yet this report shows that the volume of wholesale trade during the six months just ended was larger than in the same period last year. The volume of wholesale business in June was the largest in that month since June and this applied to almost every line of business.

It is always interesting to compare the state of trade with the condition of savings. It is very difficult to insist that things are not good when people not only spend more, but save more as well. During June of this year savings increased as much as they did in any three months of July 1924.

The ever popular barometer of steel tells much the same story. While steel production declined in April, May and June so much as in the same months last year and the level of production was pretty high. The same thing will turn out to have been the case for July when the figures for that month are in. Orders have increased in July.
July orders compared with June show as high as 10 per cent increases in some companies and as low as 10 per cent decreases in others. The forecast for this month and September are bright. These are based on the activity of automobile plants, the high rate at which sheet and tin plate mills have been running, the good outlook for implement works, the large reduced purchasing power of the dollars.

OUTLOOK FOR AUTO STOCKS
"The above comments apply to the industry and not to the stock market.
Our investigations are in connection with the manufacture and distribution of automobiles. Therefore we perhaps should say nothing regarding the securities of the companies. I, however, wish to make this comment; namely, that it is very dangerous to consider automobile stocks as a group. Each individual stock must stand on its own basis. Some will go to higher figures, while others will decline to nothing. Many of the keenest bankers believe that automobile stocks, taken as a whole, are too high at the present time, and I am inclined to agree with this diagnosis. On the other hand, if the expected consolidations take place, the surviving companies should profit greatly thereby. The automobile industry is a good deal like the copper industry. Both industries, as industries, are perfectly sound; but when investors bet on any company they run considerable risk. Moreover, statistics strongly indicate that the copper stocks, as a class, are a safer bet than the automobile stocks at the moment.

"The most dangerous factor in the situation today is the tremendous purchase of cars on installments. This seems to be inevitable and doubtless is a development which will always continue in the industry. These installment purchasers, however, have resulted in the tying up of a lot of money, which is not a healthy condition, so that some automobile companies are doing almost a banking business without federal or state supervision. This installment business is the cloud in the automobile industry today and on account thereof some companies may have much trouble ahead. It is a new business, which means there is still a lot to learn and hence some must suffer during the process of learning. Experience is very valuable, but like most valuable things is very costly.
Even though this installment business is necessary, history shows that in the early days of any good thing it is always pushed too far and overdone. This installment business is the weakest feature in the automobile structure at the present time.

THE TRUCK INDUSTRY

"In the early days the automobile industry consisted mostly of pleasure vehicles and these of course now are the backbone of the industry. Then the manufacture of trucks developed, and today the horse is very largely displaced; but thus far the truck business has never reached the proportions expected. The most lucrative field at the moment is the auto or motor coach industry. Without doubt the auto bus or motor coach, as it is now called, is destined to become a great factor in transportation.
Not only is it the salvation of street railways adopting it, but it also will be adopted for its assistance to steam railroads and most mercantile houses.
The motor coach has a great future provided the manufacturers of these buses and coaches do not kill the goose which lays the golden egg by supplying 'auto bus bootleggers' with their wares.

"By 'bootleggers' I mean auto bus owners who are operating contrary to law or without proper licenses.
Owing to the sudden development of

KOTTKE FINDS PLENTY OF JOBS IN MOTOR AGE

Horseshoeing Only One of Many Tasks Now—Skill
Draws Him Trade

Some people have an idea that about all a blacksmith does is to put shoes on horses when a horse feels the need of new footwear, and to sell the old shoes of at bargain prices to "barnyard golf" enthusiasts. However, a blacksmith would make a pretty mean living if all he did was to shoe Old Dobbin in this age of Packards, Fords, and everything intermediate.

Herman Kottke, who has a blacksmith shop at 309 N. Appleton-st tells of the many things which keep a blacksmith busy in this gasoline age. Mr. Kottke's shop is fully equipped with all possible devices for blacksmith work, wagon work and iron work. He does considerable iron work for contractors of Appleton and neighboring cities. People from all over the country bring small jobs in iron welding and iron shaping to Mr. Kottke, because they recognize his quick, but efficient service.

In the winter season there is quite a demand for sleighs, and Mr. Kottke turns out many as he has had years of experience in sleigh and wagon manufacturing. Only the best of timber is used in building wagons and sleighs.

Mr. Kottke understands the needs of horses thoroughly, and requirements necessary in horse shoes to prevent them from falling in slippery weather.

The calks used by Mr. Kottke in horseshoeing are some of the best known and most highly advertised on the market. He believes in using the best materials, even though the price of such materials may be slightly in advance of the cost of less efficient materials of a similar nature.

The workmen in Mr. Kottke's shop are those with many years of experience. Once has been employed for 20 years, and others for almost as long. These experienced workmen know the customers and their needs so that the best of service is guaranteed.

the industry, many states have not proper laws, while other states, which have active laws, have not the machinery to enforce them. The established railroads and street railways are operated by substantial interests who will not operate motor coaches illegally and without licenses. While these established railroads and street railways are endeavoring to secure licenses, these 'auto bus bootleggers' are undermining railroad and street railway investments to a most amazing amount. This is causing a very dangerous situation, and if continued too long may bring about a panic in transportation circles. Just as the railroads and street railways are becoming rehabilitated, it is crime for the automobile industry to allow these bootleggers to rob the already established means of transportation. Moreover, the future of the industry lies with the motor coach manufacturers.
If these manufacturers would refuse to sell to these bootleggers, then the industry would soon be put on a firm basis and everyone would profit, including the public. The present panic of manufacturers selling motor coaches to one who they know will operate them illegally, against the interests of established transportation companies who are endeavoring to obey the law, is immoral, unjust and short-sighted.

LOCAL FORGERS ARE ARRESTED AT SHEBOYGAN

WHITMAN TRAPS PAIR BY TIP TO PENNEY STORE

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thomas Confess to Six Swindles Committed Here

J. R. Whitman, manager of the J. C. Penney company store in Appleton, figured the second time within a few weeks in trapping a group of check forgers when he aided in bringing about the capture at Sheboygan Thursday of a trio of "check artists" who not only operated in Appleton last Saturday but who left a trail of illegal check operations in the state and possibly also in the nation.

It was through Mr. Whitman's note of warning to the Penney store at Sheboygan that the employees of that establishment were put on their guard and brought about the arrest of the trio. A quantity of merchandise, some of it purloined in Appleton, was found in the criminals' possession, and Chief George T. Prim of Appleton intended to go to Sheboygan Saturday afternoon to bring the goods back.

The offenders arrested are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thomas, alias Thompson, and Anton Sidebottom. Mrs. Thomas and Sidebottom are said to have confessed that she is the wife of both men. Bigamy charges may be preferred after the other matter has been settled. They were bound over to the circuit court Friday for a hearing on the forgery charges.

TWO OPERATED HERE
Only two of the group, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, were known to have operated in Appleton at the time they were here. They gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Thompson, and used the same names in Green Bay, Oshkosh and Sheboygan.

Six mercantile establishments, the J. C. Penney company store, Geenen's drygoods store, Pettibone-Peabody company the Matt Schmidt & Son, Cameron & Schultz and Hughes clothing stores, were visited here. Checks for $10 to $15 were passed in purchase of articles of clothing.

While Appleton police were investigating the case, word came also from Green Bay where the same couple had fleeced a number of merchants. Several stores were visited in Sheboygan, but when they entered the Penney store, the clerks recognizing them from Mr. Whitman's description whispered, "Here they come," just as they would when the elephants come in the parade.

The Thompsons tendered a $15 check drawn on a Sheboygan bank to T. Herbert and signed C. G. Murphy. E. W. Kopper, assistant manager, followed the couple to the Friede clothing store of that city while other employees notified the police. Thompson began to bluster and protest loudly at first, but Mrs. Thompson broke down under the grilling of the police station and confessed to similar illegal operations at Appleton, Green Bay, Oshkosh and West Bend.

TRAVELED BY AUTO
She told the police where the automobile in which they were touring, and there the police found Sidebottom, who at first said he was a brother of Mrs. Thompson's first husband. With them also were Jacob Aebly, 31-year-old man, said to be foster-father of Mrs. Thompson, and four children, two boys and two girls ranging in years from 7 to 12, whom Mrs. Thompson claimed as her own from her first marriage.

Mrs. Thompson first said the children's father was a brother of Sidebottom and had been dead a number of years. A marriage certificate found in a suitcase showed that Irene Collier and Gordon Miles Thomas were married in Goddard, Okla., in May 1920. When confronted with this certificate, the women tearfully admitted that she had married Thomas, assuming the name of Thompson, eight months after a divorce from Sidebottom. The self-alleged brother of Sidebottom then interviewed in his cell finally threw up his hands and admitted that he was the husband of the woman and that he had never been divorced. The harassed woman then also admitted the bigamy act, it is said. She hinted that Sidebottom used the knowledge of her bigamy as a club to force her and Thomas to pay the checks and provide him a living.

Mrs. Thomas said she married Thomas because Sidebottom deserted her and failed to support her and because Thomas was good to her children. Sidebottom said he came back cause of the children and all had agreed to be friends and travel together. The children were taken by the police to the home for the friendless.

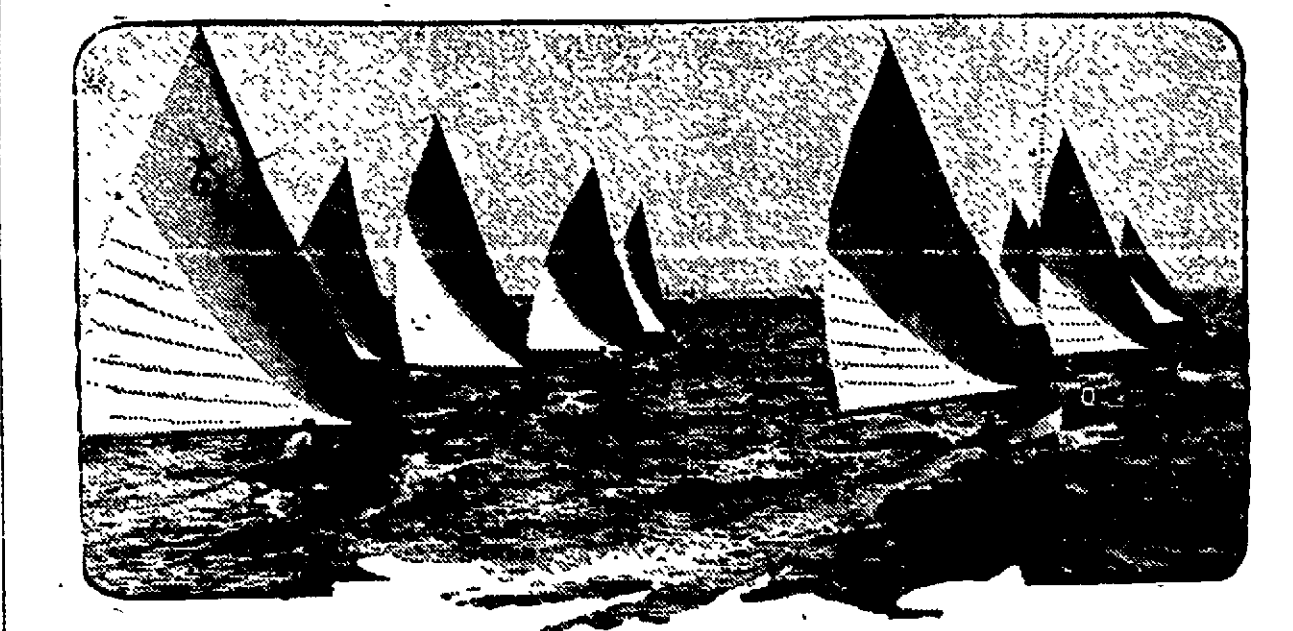

The trio remained silent on its activities outside the state. The automobile bore a Colorado license plate claimed by Sidebottom who said he took the license out in the name of C. C. Smith. Their illegal operations had evidently not been very profitable, for $17.47 was all that was found in the woman's possession, while Sidebottom had $2.93 and Thomas $19.46. But the baggage in the automobile consisted of nine suitcases and traveling bags and other bundles containing a variety of clothes.

COOLIDGE ARMS POLICY SHOWS HE IS SINCERE

States is concerned, is the further development of a ruces of friendship with Japan. He realizes that no good can come from leaving the relations between the United States and Japan in their present unsettled state. He was deeply disappointed when the senate at a moment of passion refused to heed the executive's plea for a more agreeable method of accomplishing Japanese exclusion than was proposed in the immigration bill then pending.

The present law specifically discriminates against the Japanese. To have placed the Japanese on the same quota basis as other countries would have meant the admission of 148 Japanese annually and it is understood that Japan, of her own volition, planned to keep intact the gentlemen's agreement so as to prohibit even the 148 from going to America.

DEPENDS ON JAPAN

Mr. Coolidge knows that the entire problem of armament at present is dependent on future relations with Japan and he is unwilling to accept the theory that cordial relations are impossible because of what America has done to damage Japanese pride. He has before him the precedent of the historic repeal of the law exempting American vessels from paying Panama canal tolls. President Wilson took the view that the law was generally regarded outside America as violating a treaty and he was supported by Republicans like Elihu Root, Henry Cabot Lodge and others in his plea for repeal.

Mr. Coolidge is insured bipartisan support if he takes the same ground, namely, that the passage of the immigration law, in direct contradiction of the gentlemen's agreement, was not in accord with the practice of friendly nations, and that a substitute method of meeting the viewpoint of the exclusionists can be found.

ONLY CLOUD IN SKY

The Japanese controversy is the only cloud on the horizon of friendly relations. The policy of the administration toward Central and South America continues to win friends in Latin America. The difficulties with Mexico are slowly but surely being ironed out and the European economic situation is at least better than it was before the Dawes plan was put into operation.

The president has emphasized the necessity for the payment of war debts in a way that has not offended the foreign debtors, and yet has convinced them that the United States is in earnest. The fruition of this policy is still in the future but the beginnings are wrapped in the most delicate and painstaking diplomacy, for it is Mr. Coolidge's ambition to fund all the outstanding debts before another two years shall roll around.

(The next dispatch in the series will deal with Mr. Coolidge's attitude toward politics and the 1928 election).

PAYS TO WATCH ZONING NOTICES

Peotter Finds Objectors Often Are Too Late — Board Meets Monday

That is often one's loss to omit reading the legal notices in the news, paper was declared by George E. Peotter, building inspector, Saturday. Frequently notices are published on the classified advertising pages of the Post-Crescent affecting property under proposed changes in the zoning ordinances. Mr. Peotter cites one instance where property owners objecting to a change in the ordinance did not see the notice and, consequently did not file objections until after the board of appeals had held a hearing and made a decision in the matter.

A meeting of the board will be held in the city hall Monday morning. The building inspector is not urging any one to attend, but he declares that it is always to a property owner's advantage in reading the notices of proposed changes in the city zoning, for some notice may some day affect his own district and the value of his own property. If a resident objects to having a business establishment built beside his property he should voice his views at the board hearings.

Monday the board will consider applications for conducting two tourist campsites in Appleton, one by the Kewanee club at Bellings' corner, and one by Nicholas Beltzner on N. Richmond-st. There also is an application from Matt Crowe to build a garage on his property on State-st. between W. Spencer and W. Eighth-sts.

Green Bay—Police here Saturday are on the trail of an auto bandit. Answering a call, Louis Mueller, taxi driver, went to a soft drink parlor early Saturday morning where his prospective passenger was standing on the curb. Climbing into the cab the stranger asked to be taken to a residence on the outskirts of Green Bay where he stepped out brandishing a pistol, and ordered the driver to "stick 'em up."

Finding only $10, the auto bandit grunted and directed Mueller to drive off, while he walked down the street out of sight.

iclcGhbaotaaew143la7-09daradrym...

A low pressure area with showers has moved across the lower Lake region during the past 24 hours, some of the rain being heavy. Meanwhile a high pressure area in the west is settling slowly southward and spreading its influence so that it is expected to dominate conditions here over the weekend, with generally fair weather. Temperatures are considerably below normal over the southern states as the high pressure advances, but a similar slight reaction is setting in over the northern plains, so temperatures may not be quite so cool here, but the change will be small.

Mr. Wood announced that $200 was spent by the commissioners on the road leading from Morrison-st. to the grove in the park, that a caretaker has been employed there for one and a half months and that when baseball clubs asked the commission to improve the diamonds the commissioners gave the clubs $50 with which to put the grounds in proper order.

ELECTRICITY TO GUIDE AIRMEN ON WAY TO LAND

London—An electric current is to be used shortly to guide pilots through the fogs of England in safety to the airfields below them.

The landing space is encircled by a cable, just under the surface of the ground charged with an alternating current which creates a magnetic field. The presence of this field is detected by instruments carried on the plane and, according to Sir Philip Sassoon, under secretary for air, no matter how dark the night or how thick the fog, the pilot will know when he is over the landing stage.

Tourists are looking for it and local drivers have now become used to it. Painted signs have been placed on all roads at the city limits warning motorists to be on the watch for the signal and arterial highway signs.

Moni Tells Her How To Wear Skirts

Chicago—There's the dotted line, the life line, the danger line and side line.

Now comes the individual skirt line, as preached by Ralph Moni, celebrated artist and instructor in decorating at the Chicago Institute of Fine Arts here.

Moni, who exercises his talents on cloth, marble and canvas alike, has created something like a young hurricane of dissention in local Latin Quarter circles here by preaching his tenets of a hem dropped to the particular legs of the suit.

"We are out of the Victorian era, thank goodness," says Moni, "when ladies legs were the sacred cow taboo. But, unfortunately, we have entered a period when freedom of dress has subordinated artistic conceptions of form and beauty."

"Woman's hair may be her crowning glory, but she is as good as crowned if the visible part of her legs exposed to the crowd fail to harmonize with that part of her loveliness as represented in the neck upward."

"To find her proper skirt length the woman should stand with feet together and toes outpointed at an angle of 45 degrees."

"Approximately one-half inch below where the calves touch when the heels are in this position is the proper and individual skirt length."

"If the calves do not touch, the skirt should drop in the same manner to one-half inch below the point where they almost touch, or to the point where they come nearest touching."

"This will apply to all women living any sort of beauty in any part of their legs. Pipe-stem varieties are excluded, because they are impossible."

According to Moni, early three-quarters of the young girls in large cities wear their skirts at the improper height.

Bow-legged girls should show as little of their legs as possible, and knock-kneed girls need never mind their affliction, providing they are part perfect, below the upper extremity of the calf.

Moni's ideas already have left their mark in smart Chicago circles, where skirts have been rising and falling on an individual basis since he cut loose his line on the skirt line.

DESPISED LEMON ONE OF CHEAPEST COSMETICS, YVONNE GREY CLAIMS

BY YVONNE GREY
Of the Ziegfeld Follies

You can hand me a lemon any time you want to, and I'll always take it gladly, for lemons are my favorite beautifiers.

If I find myself feeling sort of low—it doesn't often happen, I admit—I give up coffee and tea and have hot lemonade with a little sugar instead.

If my skin seems sallow I squeeze the juice of a few lemons into a hot water and use it after cleansing my face with cold cream.

When my hair isn't lustrous as I like it to be, I use the juice of a lemon in the last rinsing water the next time I wash it, and it brings-out all the gold.

When I am very sleepy and need to be peppy, I don't take any food, but have the juice of two lemons in cold water instead. The despised lemon is worth cultivating and it's the cheapest cosmetic you can buy.

HELEN KELLER HAPPIER THAN MODERN GIRL

Cleveland—If you had never seen a real American flapper with her bobbed hair, short skirts, rouged cheeks, and painted lips from which a cigaret dangled, what would you think of her?

If you never had heard this same flapper chattering flippantly about many dances, wild auto rides and her many admirers, can you imagine what you would think of her?

There is one prominent American woman, who has lived in this country all her life, and yet never has seen or heard the American flapper—so easily seen and heard.

But in her "mind's eye" she has a picture of the modern American girl and she has very definite opinions regarding her.

"Woman once was the slave of man, but now—she is the slave of fitting pleasure."

Those words sum up what Miss Helen Keller, blind and deaf, since she was 19 months old, thinks of the modern girl she has never seen.

The picture this famous blind woman has of the flapper was obtained entirely from her "hand talks" with her teacher, Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, who "writes" words on Miss Keller's hand by certain movements of her own hand. With almost magic rapidity, Mrs. Macy translates long sentences to her "pupil."

"I feel the deft touches of her fingers on the palm of Miss Keller's hand. Miss Keller replies to her hand questions in slow and sometimes indistinct English, because her articulation cannot be aided by hearing what she says."

"Although I have never seen a woman smoking a cigaret, of course I think it is a disgusting sight," Miss Keller says.

CAN'T IMAGINE BOBS
"And bobbed hair and short skirts I can't imagine that they would make a woman attractive. If I had my sight back, one of the last things I would want to see would be a girl of this type."

"She is only thinking of her own pleasure. She is constantly seeking frivolous happiness, and she never finds real happiness. She just fills about from one selfish pleasure to another. She is a slave of pleasure."

"Without my sight and hearing, I believe I am happier than she is."

I need not remind you, Jack, that I was at the end of my world that night that you came along and turned my face again in the other direction. Of course, I should have gone on freezing, starving, dying, but I could not, when food and warmth and life were offered me.

Of course, you should have taken the pharisaic course and passed me on the other side, but you did not.

The world has its opinions of such meetings and the world tells us what to do under such circumstances, but nature takes a more liberal view—and for the breathless, blissful interlude of the last few months I have not cared what the world thought.

You call yourself a boulder, Jack. Perhaps the world would call you so. To me you are a very human and lovable man with perhaps a few more contradictions than the average.

I love you, Jack. I expect many women have said this to you. Your great mistake, my friend, is that you let them do it. You reach out for the always titillating thrill.

Your wife is a wonderful woman. If she were not your wife and always there beside you, you would be crazy about her. The whole trouble is that she doesn't keep her sense of humor working and you are just as chary of using your imagination as I am sorry for her, Jack, very sorry for her, but I am also sorry for you, for honestly I believe there is no one in the world who could or does make you as happy as your wife does.

I expect neither of you would agree to fly. I just had time to hear a bang, bang, bang, and feel a pain in my leg. Then I saw smoke coming out of the holes in the big bird. It had shot me. But I got away and came here."

Doctor Bill looked pretty stern. "I'm sorry to tell you, Mister Duck, that that wasn't a bird at all," he said. "It was really a boat with men in it, and built that way to fool you. When you came close enough they shot at you."

"My goodness!" said the duck. "Now we will have to be more careful than ever. I must go and tell my friends."

prelate my pity, but it is yours, nevertheless.

I don't pity myself. I'm going to pieces because you have gone out of my life. I think I am going to do something bigger and finer and more splendid than I ever thought of doing before, and that is the reason that I have written you. I want you to know that from now on I am going to sail a straight course. I want you to know, John Alden Prescott, that it isn't possible for you to make me lose my self-respect. You see, I have a man's outlook on life and living and, Jack, I must be grateful to you for that—you taught that to me.

I know you told me not to write to you, but like all women I must have the last word, and these are the words I want to say: "Don't be a fool any longer. Let your wife be everything to you. She can be that. She is beautiful, she is clever, she has charm."

I know that, for I have made it my business to watch her when you have been with her. She is too good for you, Jack, but alas, she loves you and that tells the story.

Thanks for the check. I have no scruples about taking it. I am going to use it to help me to rehabilitate myself among my own sex. In the future I am going to steer clear of yours.

NEARLY INSANE AT TIMES

Mrs. Saunders Tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Troubles of Change of Life

Knoxville, Tenn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound while going through the Change of Life. I was very nervous, could not sleep and had melancholy spells. In fact, I was nearly insane at times and my memory was almost a blank. I was so weak I could not do my household half of the time and suffered dreadfully with my back. My doctor said I would have to worry it out and I went through this for three years before I began taking the Vegetable Compound which I saw advertised. I think it was eight bottles that I took. It has been two years since I took any and I haven't had a doctor since for that trouble. I do all my washing and ironing and I have gained from 116 to 138 pounds. I advise all women who suffer physically and mentally as I did to give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I hope it will do as much for them as it did for me."

Fruit Drink Cool And Healthy For Children

BY SISTER MARY

On a hot day there's nothing quite like a well-made and chilled beverage served with a delightful tinkling of ice.

A drink made entirely of fruit juices is cooling and healthful both for children and grown-ups. The minerals, salts and acids of the fruits tend to increase the alkalinity of the blood and keep one cool in spite of a rising mercury.

Drinks made with a foundation of lemon tea are refreshing and mildly stimulating, quite like a cup of hot tea.

Tea coffee stimulates the nerves in the same fashion the hot beverage does and lemon drinks contain exactly the same food value that a hot milk drink provides.

The following chocolate milk drink makes a meal in itself with the addition of a brown bread and butter sandwich and a bit of fresh fruit. Children, particularly, like it.

CHOCOLATE EGG DRINK
One egg, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 scant teaspoon cocoa, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-14 cups milk, 2 drops oil of peppermint.

Beat yolk of egg. Mix sugar, cocoa and salt and beat it into yolk. Beat in the milk and half of the well-beaten white of egg. Pour into a glass containing the flavoring and mix the remaining white of egg on top. Vanilla can be used in place of the peppermint.

The milk should be very cold before combining with the egg and just enough ice to "tinkle" in the glass be used. Much ice will make the drink watery. Serve as soon as made.

JUNE PUNCH
Two cups strawberry juice, 1 cup strong hot tea, 1 cup orange juice, 1 cup currant juice, 2 cups grated pineapple, 2 cups sugar, 2 cups water, 2 cups ice water.

Simmer pineapple, sugar and water for 20 minutes. Remove from the fire and when cool add fruit juices and tea. Strain and chill. When ready to serve add ice water. Serve with a sprig of fresh mint in each glass.

RASPBERRY NECTAR
Two cups raspberry juice, 1-2 cup lemon juice, 1-2 cup orange juice, 2-4 cup sugar, 2 cups water, 1 egg white.

Combine fruit juices with sugar and let stand, stirring frequently until sugar is dissolved. Add water and let stand on ice for 1 hour. Beat and add to fruit mixture. Beat well with whisk until the whole is frothy. Serve with 1 tablespoon crushed ice in each glass.

The housekeeper who likes to be able to serve a refreshing drink to her chance visitor will keep a supply of fruit syrups on hand. These syrups are added to ice or charged water, 1 or 2 tablespoonsful to a glass of water.

The following is a "general" recipe for fruit syrups.

FRUIT SYRUP
Two cups sugar, 2 cups fruit juice, 2 cans boiling water.

Put water into sauce pan and sift in sugar. When sugar is dissolved cover pan and boil 10 minutes. Add fruit juice and bring to the boiling point. Cover and simmer, just below the bubbling point for 15 minutes. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

The fruit juice is obtained by slightly heating the fruit while crushing it. Crush well and strain through several thicknesses of cheesecloth. Press the bag to extract all the juice. Berries are usually treated this way.

Extra sugar is seldom needed when making a beverage with a fruit syrup.

Chocolate or cocoa syrup can be made and added to a milk and egg drink in place of the uncooked cocoa. The drink is really more delicious and smooth when the cooked syrup is used.

CHOCOLATE OR COCOA SYRUP
One cup cocoa or 3 squares bitter chocolate, 1 cup sugar, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup water.

Grate and melt chocolate, stir in sugar and add boiling water and salt. Cook, stirring to prevent burning, for 5 minutes. The cocoa and sugar are well mixed before adding the water and salt. This mixture is cooked for 5 minutes. Pour into sterilized can and keep on ice when cold. Vanilla is added when the drink is made.

One or two tablespoonsfuls of this syrup is used to 1 cup of milk.

What Will Your Harvest Be?

An abundant one—if you watch your garden and protect it from the diseases and insects which are likely to appear. These must be fought with determination and the battle must begin as soon as they reveal their existence.

The Government will aid you in the prevention and cure of your garden ills. Its experts have prepared an invaluable booklet on "Diseases and Insects of Garden Vegetables." Your garden may be only a backyard plot or it may cover acres—but in either event you need this booklet.

Our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy of this booklet for you if you will send in your name and address together with two cents in stamps to cover the return postage.

Adventures Of The Twins

Mister Wild Duck's Party

"Well, well, well," said Doctor Bill to Nancy and Nick. "I do believe that I have everybody cured. My hospital is almost empty."

But scarcely were the words out of his mouth when they heard a flapping noise outside, and opening the door they saw a large brown bird with a black head and black wings just lighting on the doorstep.

"Why, hello there, Mister Wild Duck!" exclaimed Doctor Bill reaching out to shake hands. "Come right in. Is this a social call or a professional visit?"

"I don't know," said Mister Wild Duck limping in. "But to make a long story short, I'm in a bad way and I'm lame. I haven't a hole in my leg, and it hasn't any fun. My wing is hurt too and it is hard to fly."

Doctor Bill took the poor bird into his office and with the help of the Twins bandaged him up.

"That certainly feels better," said Mister Wild Duck gratefully. "How much do you charge?"

"Oh, I'll send you a bill at the end of the year," said Doctor Bill. "There's no hurry about that."

"Dear knows where I'll be then," said the duck. "I'm a wandering sort of creature. I travel most of the time. We wild ducks have a pretty hard time of it, though."

"You haven't told me yet how you got hurt," said Doctor Bill.

"Oh, haven't I?" exclaimed the duck. "Well, well, well, and still I'm not sure myself. It was very queer! A bird shot me."

"A bird?" cried everybody.

"That's exactly what it was," said the wild duck positively. "My companions and I had been flying all night on our way up from the south—and very early in the morning we flew down to get our breakfast in a flat marshy place near the shore where a lot of tall reeds were growing. We felt safer there because the reeds hid us from view. I'm sorry to say that in such places we sometimes see men in little boats, with guns, waiting to shoot us. They even shoot little wooden ducks on the water that look exactly like us, so that we will be fooled and think that we are safe for them it is safe for us. Then when we get close enough they shoot us."

"Well," exclaimed Nancy, "what happened then? Surely the little wooden ducks couldn't hurt you?"

The wild duck looked puzzled. "That's the funny part of it," he said. "There were no little ducks at this place. Not a thing in sight anywhere, except a very large bird floating on the water. I had never seen one like it anywhere before. It was bigger than a swan or a gull and it was very still and it was very close to us. I saw it swim nearer and nearer to have a good look at it. It certainly was a funny bird, with holes all over it."

"Then what happened?" asked Nick.

"I don't remember exactly," said the duck. "But something seemed to scare us suddenly, and we started be everything to you. She can be that. She is beautiful, she is clever, she has charm."

I know that, for I have made it my business to watch her when you have been with her. She is too good for you, Jack, but alas, she loves you and that tells the story.

Thanks for the check. I have no scruples about taking it. I am going to use it to help me to rehabilitate myself among my own sex. In the future I am going to steer clear of yours.

The FLAPPER WIFE

The next morning Dick insisted upon getting up at his usual time. He announced, further more, that he was going to the office.

"If I give in and stay at home, I'll be getting the 'sick habit' first thing I know," he told Mother Gregory when she arrived at a glass of grape jelly for the invalid. I'll work this shaky feeling off in two or three hours down at the office."

"That poor boy is going to kill himself!" Mother Gregory later told Ranghild, to whom she had taken an instant liking. She was making milk toast with her own hands for Dick while he dressed.

When he was ill, Mother Gregory had a feeling that nothing that any doctor or nurse could do for him, would do him half as much good as the food she, herself, got ready for him.

Gloria, reading the morning paper in the dining room, listened to the conversation going on in the kitchen. "That's the way he's been all his life. . . . All ambition, with nobody to back it up!" Mrs. Gregory was saying to Ranghild. "I hope you never fry. His food or put much grease in it. Grease gives him indigestion quicker than scat!"

"Yes, ma'ma, I know," Ranghild answered in her pleasant voice. "But Mr. Gregory doesn't look sickly to me. He's that very kind of person if you know what I mean. They can stand anything."

The pantry door swung open and Ranghild came into the dining room with the water pitcher. Gloria looked up at her.

"Don't pay any attention to Mr. Gregory's mother, Ranghild," she said in an undertone. "You're working for me, not for her. And she's just telling you all that stuff to hear herself talk, anyway."

With a solemn nod Ranghild went back into the kitchen.

A few minutes later Dick came downstairs. Mother Gregory brought him his milk toast with the prideful look of a Louis Sherry displaying a wedding cake for the Astor family. "I'm not going to sit down with you. I had my breakfast at home before I came," she said. "So I'll just take the paper into the sunroom with me for a few minutes. . . . If no one's reading it."

She rustled blandly away.

Gloria could feel Dick's eyes on her. She did not look up, but tapped her egg and buttered her toast with pretended absorption.

"Gloria," he said at last. She raised her eyes. Dick was white and haggard.

"Dick, you're crazy to try to go to the office, today," she said. "Why don't you stay home and rest. Dr. John will have a fit when he finds out you're gone to work."

"Never you mind about me, Gloria. It's you I'm thinking about, just now," Dick answered in a low tone. "I've been lying awake most of the night thinking about you, to tell the truth. . . . Look here, Gloria, did you love me or not when you married me?"

"Oh, dear, do we have to go into all that right now? Can't we have one meal in peace?" Gloria's voice was pathetic. "First of all we row about money and maids. . . . and now you want to raise the roof again. I suppose about yesterday afternoon. Let's forget it."

"I wish I could," Dick answered. "But it's a pretty serious thing for a fellow to come home and find his wife entertaining another man."

"He came over and put his arms around Gloria. . . .

"Honey, I know there was nothing wrong about your little party, yesterday. You were bored and you wanted a little thrill, a taste of excitement. But other people won't see it that way. They'll soon be saying that my wife's in love with that cheap actor. . . . They'll have you in the May Seymour class, first thing you know!"

"What's everybody down on May for?" Gloria asked. "I don't blame her a little bit for going around with Jim Carewe, if her own husband won't take her anywhere! Why doesn't he get next to himself, and see that he's losing May?"

Dick pondered. "I suppose he's too busy. And anyway, a husband is always the last person to hear rotten gossip about his wife," he said.

He was looking out of the dining-room windows that faced the street, watching the Donberg twins who lived next door. They were running races with their new airedale pup. . . . their sturdy legs twinkling past each other like the parts of a perfectly-gear machine.

"Gosh, Gloria, wouldn't it be nice if we had a couple of little kids like these two?" he asked, tightening his hold of her. "A couple of jolly little youngsters who'd race down the street every night to meet me."

"Yes, and who'd scratch up all the furniture, and turn the house into a boiler-factory when it came to noise! No thank you, sweetie! I'm afraid I'll have to squelch your fond hopes. . . . She wriggled out of Dick's arms and got to her feet.

Dick, with his hands gripped, stood looking down at her.

"Honey," he said, "you're just cheating yourself when you make up your mind not to have children. Why don't you want them? . . . What do you thing marriage is for, anyway?"

Gloria laughed stridently.

"How do I know what marriage is for? I didn't invent it," she cried. "It's not my idea of wordly bliss, let me tell you! I've seen too much of it the last couple of months."

She walked out of the room.

"I see by the paper that Myra Gail is going to Europe again," Mother Gregory called to her from the sunroom. "My goodness, she must cost that husband of hers a fortune in steamship tickets alone!"

Gloria stretched herself lazily on the chaise longue in the sunroom. "Well, what's the difference so long as he can afford it?" she asked. "It's a relief to hear of a generous husband once in a while. Most of them are terrible tightwads."

Mother Gregory looked up sharply. "That's a queer thing for you to say," she said sharply. "I'm sure Dick's generous with you. . . . generous to a fault. As far as I can see he refuses you nothing you ask for!"

Gloria smiled, exasperatedly.

"I haven't asked him for much. . . . yet," she drawled.

In the instant she made up her mind that she was going to ask him for something, though. . . . a trip to Europe to shop in Paris with Myra Gail!

Ranghild opened the glass doors of the sunroom.

"Mrs. Seymour on the telephone, ma'am," she said to Gloria.

May's voice was tearful. "Have you been asked to join this big new club they're starting. . . . the Home Women's Club, it's called?" she asked.

Gloria said she had. "Well, I haven't!" May almost shrieked into the telephone. "I think I'm the only clubwoman in town who's been left out. Everybody I know is joining but me."

She broke down completely. Gloria could hear her wildly sobbing. She had not known that May could take a snub this way. May had always seemed to be hardened against the unkind things that were said about her and her love affair with Jim Carewe.

Let 'em talk!" she had always told Gloria, recklessly. "When they're talking about me and Jim they're giving somebody else a rest!"

LAWRENCE ALTERS GRID TICKET SALES SYSTEM

Public Will Get Chance To Purchase Ducats For Whole Season This Fall

More Than 7,000 Seats Will Be Available When New Field Is Completed in Fourth Ward

Season tickets will be sold to the general public for Lawrence football games this fall, according to an announcement by Fred Trezise, athletic manager. This is expected to do away with the crowding at the gates before every home game and to increase the outside attendance considerably. The tickets will be distributed by students and also will be sold at several business places about town. The sale is expected to start late in August.

There is room for more than 7,000 fans in the stands at the new field in the fourth ward. On the old field about half of the crowd was forced to stand at any big game, but this will not be necessary next fall. Several blocks of seats will be reserved, but reserved seats tickets will not be sold for the season. The season tickets may be reserved, however, a day or two before the games, reservations to be made at business houses designated for that purpose or at the Lawrence athletic office.

CHILDREN GET CHANCE

Children of the grade schools and the junior high schools will be given an opportunity to purchase good conduct tickets at a nominal cost. A certain number of tickets will be set aside for each school, and the respective principals will be authorized to sell them to students who have made the best records in their school work.

The children will be organized into cheering groups and taught the various Lawrence yells. They will be seated in a separate section and kept together during games. This system is expected to eliminate a great deal of the trouble experienced in previous years by the large numbers of boys who climbed over the fence or crawled under it, necessitating scores of watchmen around the fences. The cyclone fence around the new field will be impossible to climb and provisions will be made to prevent all other illegal means of entrance also.

PROVIDE PARKING SPACE

Parking space will be provided for as many cars as are likely to be brought to any one game. This will be enclosed, and cars will be under observation at all times during play, so that their owners may be unconcerned while they are watching play. Most of the parking space will be south of the gridiron on the tableland, but there will be room elsewhere also in case of necessity.

The first game of the season will be played on Oct. 3 with Oshkosh normal here for the opening. The next home game brings Coe college here on Oct. 17, with Ripon here for the Homecoming on Oct. 24. Beloit is slated as the final opponent of the Blues on their home grid and will be here Nov. 13. The home games promise to be the best and hardest on the schedule this year, and it is expected the capacity of the new field will be strained to the utmost for all of them. It is on this account that season tickets will be sold.

VIRGIL BARNES LOSES IN PECULIAR BATTLE

Virgil Barnes of the Giants dropped a rather odd game the other day. After holding the Reds to two hits over eight innings, Barnes blew up in the ninth, permitting the foe to overcome a four-run lead and cap the tilt. The Reds scored six runs in the session.

BUD TAYLOR SHADES GRAHAM AT AURORA

By Associated Press
Aurora, Ill. — Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, 120 pounder is a step higher in his heavyweight title aspirations as a result of his victory over Bushy Graham of Utica, N. Y., here Friday night. Newspaper men gave him the shade decision.

Graham, victor recently over Abe Attell Goldstein, former titleholder, was dropped for a count of nine and again for seven counts in the first round. The New York boxer staged a comeback and in the ninth caught Taylor with a hard right swing to the head, flooring him. The Hoosier lad was up before a count began.

Two Harvard Stars Have Nine Letters For Sport

Cambridge, Mass. — Only two athletes in the history of dear old Harvard, as they say in this college town, have succeeded in winning the varsity "H" nine times.

George Owen, famous Crimson athlete of a few years back, was the first son of Harvard to turn the trick. The other fortunate person is Jack Hammond, who recently ended his collegiate athletic career as captain of the 1925 baseball team.

Hammond did not close his career in the proverbial blaze of glory, as a matter of fact the Crimson line that he led against Yale was one of the poorest teams ever turned out at Harvard.

LEADING NET STARS FIND ROUGH GOING

New York — It seems to be a rather tough season for the leading tennis stars. At least for quite a few of them.

The other day Ray Casey, California sensation, was put out in the first round of the annual Seaside Invitational tournament. And the following afternoon Bill Johnston, third to ranking American, went down to defeat before Dr. George King, a very ordinary practitioner.

At the same set-together the Kingsley brothers, national doubles champions, were all but beaten when their opponents, Jones and Ingraham, Yale and Harvard captains, respectively, defaulted because of an engagement to play against Oxford-Cambridge.

Y. M. C. A. TENNIS TEAM WILL PLAY WAUPACA, AUG. 15

Triangles Will Make Trip to Engage Strong City Netters in Match

Appleton Y. M. C. A. netters will invade Waupaca on August 15 to engage the Waupaca City Tennis team in an intercity match, according to an announcement by Arthur P. Jensen, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. here, and manager of the tennis team. This match had been in the process of negotiation for a number of weeks, but Waupaca was unable to give the Triangles a date until Friday, when Jensen received the acceptance.

Clippinger, Dyson, Loeck and Landis will make the trip. These four stars represented the Y. M. C. A. in the recent tri-city tourney with Waupaca and Oshkosh, but since that time have shown considerable improvement. Clippinger will have charge of the team in the absence of Manager Jensen, who left for a month's vacation Saturday afternoon.

There will be two doubles and four singles matches at Waupaca. The Appleton team still is rather weak in the doubles, but several of the players are very formidable in the singles and expect to carry off the honors in these events at least. Waupaca is said to be strong in both departments, and the Triangles plan to work hard next week in preparation for a hard day.

FOUR BOYS PASS RED CROSS TEST

Lads Complete Course in Lifesaving Procedure at Y. M. C. A.

Four boys who had been enrolled in the swimming classes at the Y. M. C. A. for the past few weeks passed their lifesaving examinations in the junior class this week. These examinations consisted of the front approach and armlock carry, back approach and head carry and the underwater approach and cross-chest carry, carrying another swimmer by the tired swimmers method for a distance of 30 feet after swimming 60 feet, demonstration of the release from a double grip on the wrist, from the front strangle hold and from the back strangle hold, and finally the demonstration of the prone pressure in resuscitating a drowning person.

The examination included the following features: Drowning in the water while swimming 100 yards, deep water dive from the surface to recover a 10-pound weight; three approaches to a drowning person consisting of the front approach and armlock carry, back approach and head carry and the underwater approach and cross-chest carry, carrying another swimmer by the tired swimmers method for a distance of 30 feet after swimming 60 feet, demonstration of the release from a double grip on the wrist, from the front strangle hold and from the back strangle hold, and finally the demonstration of the prone pressure in resuscitating a drowning person.

DEMPSEY TELLS MOGULS HE HAS SHAKEN KEARNS

Board May Rule Jack Out as Champ Unless Fight With Wills Is Arranged

New York — According to his own admission in a telegram to the New York State athletic commission, Jack Dempsey Saturday is his own manager.

"An airmail letter to the board," Dempsey wired, "best explains conditions of clearing up my affairs with Jack Kearns." The telegram also said:

"Mr. Kearns now knows that I will hereafter act for myself for my professional engagements. I am taking no admission with regard to casting Kearns aside after his statement here, recently that his manager's contract had still another year to run and his allusion in the telegram to 'a lot of money being involved,' gave cause for speculation as to whether the heavyweight champion was compelled to dip deeply into his purse in order to shake off Kearns. Dempsey declared he had not yet agreed to fight anyone, but Wills and asked the indulgence of the commission in the matter of his delayed appearance before it. But he failed to set forth his willingness to fight Wills next July 4, as announced by his press agent in Los Angeles.

Official action on the Dempsey case is expected to be taken by the board next Thursday. If definite information showing that steps have been taken to bring about the Wills-Dempsey fight is not presented at this meeting, the board may vote to recognize Dempsey no longer as champion and order an elimination series for the title.

Anticipating that such a series would likely be limited to Gene Tunney and Harry Wills, Tex Rickard already has begun negotiations for the battle, to be staged this fall.

Although they were outlasted almost two to one, the Triangles turned the tables on the Chairmakers Friday afternoon in the City Twilight league and capped the game, 14 to 8. Poor fielding lost the contest for the Chair Co. the Triangles taking four runs without a hit in the seventh stanza.

Blier, pitcher for the Y. M. C. A., and Lockin for the Chairmakers did fine work, only one walk being issued during the whole seven innings. Blier issued this free pass. Hitting was heavy in every inning on both sides, but the Triangles had superior fielders and managed to get out of trouble several times with the stations loaded.

The Chairmakers grabbed six runs in the sixth inning, starting a rally that had the Triangles worried badly. Selig, Triangle leftfielder, speared a flock of drives out in his garden that probably saved the day for his club.

The batteries: Triangles—Blier and Voeckes; Chair Co.—Lockin and Knight.

These four maidens established a new world record for women in the quarter-mile relay race at the recent National A. A. U. games out on the coast. The time was 52 2-5 seconds. From left to right they are: Helen Filkey of Chicago; Francis Ruppert, Philadelphia; Maybelle Gilliland, New York; and Elita Cartwright of Eureka, Calif.

Mrs. Filkey is an all-round athlete, being world record holder in the broad jump and low hurdles as well.

WALL-HADFIELD MATCH DECIDES WOMENS TITLE

Triopi Country Club Awarded 1926 State Womens Tournament

Kenosha—Ideal weather conditions with the course in splendid shape were the prospects which greeted Miss Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, when she teed off at the Kenosha Country club Saturday in the battle to retain her state women's title against Miss Frances Hadfield, Blue Mound, who has won the coveted honors on more than one occasion. Both have been shooting beautiful golf all week and spectators were not giving either an edge, figuring the one who gets the "breaks" will take the title.

Conditions were more conducive to a swimming meet than a golf tournament marked the semifinal round of play in the 1925 state women's classic here Friday when Miss Wall defeated Miss Dorothy Page, Madison, one up, while Miss Hadfield won over Mrs. C. Russell, Milwaukee Country club, five up and three. The matches were played in the midst of a steady drizzle and in spite of the inclement weather some exceptionally fine golf was played.

The Triopi Country club of Milwaukee was awarded the 1926 tournament of the Wisconsin Women's Golf association at the annual business meeting of the organization here Friday afternoon. The date for the event will be definitely set at a directors' meeting in Milwaukee next spring.

MRS. ABERT PRESIDENT

Mrs. Byron Abert of Triopi was elected president to succeed Miss Emily Bond, Kenosha. Miss Bessie Greene, Milwaukee Country club, was named vice president and Mrs. Henry C. Miller, Racine, the new secretary and treasurer.

It was decided that the chairman of each club's golf committee shall become a director in the women's association, the names of such chairmen to be sent to the secretary on or before April 1 of each year. The rule was adopted whereby it becomes necessary for all entries to be registered on the Wednesday night preceding the tournament. The runner-up in the tournament of the previous year shall be given the preference to qualify as No. 1 on the list of players. All late entrants shall be stated in accordance with the time their names are received.

COLONELS HAVE GREAT PLAYER IN TY TYSON

Louisville — The pace-setting Louisville club boasts one of the greatest players in the American Association in Ty Tyson, an outfielder. According to reports, Owner Knebelkamp has placed a valuation of approximately $100,000 on the young fellow's services.

TYSON'S AN OUTSTANDING STAR

He can hit, run and field. He used to be a pitcher. But was made over into an outpost man because of his great clotting ability. Several big league clubs are said to be dickering for him.

GOLF As Champions Play It

the two arms must work TOGETHER BACKWARD - FORWARD

What part do the arms play in making a correct swing?

BY CYRIL WALKER
National Open Champion, 1924

IN MAKING A CORRECT SWING THE TWO ARMS MUST WORK COMPLETELY IN UNISON

One of the big difficulties in golf is that the arms tend frequently to work against each other. In other words, one arm is likely to predominate unless proper care is taken. "Too much right arm" means a hook, a pull or a smothered shot. A predominance of the left arm will tend to pull the hands through ahead of the clubhead, thus causing a slice. The purpose of the overlapping or interlocking grip is to make both hands work as one. In this way only can proper unison of arm work be produced.

Baseball Simplified

In a run down, when two players are on the same base, to whom does the base belong and is it possible to have a force play when the batsman is in no way involved?

When two runners finally land on the same base without either having been retired, the base always belongs to the original occupant.

Thus, if with runners on second and third, the catcher by a snap throw gets the runner off second base and he dashes for third, whereupon the runner on third makes a break for home, only to have the play shifted to the plate and the final result finds both men on third, the base belongs to the man who was there when the play started.

He is immune from being retired while standing on the base. The runner who came up from second can be retired by being touched with the ball, even though he is standing on the base. It does not belong to him, therefore does not give him immunity from being retired.

However, he has a perfect right to return to second, his original base, if he can get back there before being touched with the ball.

There can never be a force play unless the batter is involved. In other words a force play can only be made when a baserunner legally loses the right to the base he occupies by reason of the batsman becoming a baserunner and he be thereby obliged to advance.

STEVENS CHIEF CONTENDER FOR DICKINSON TITLE

Riverview Golfers Start Qualifying Round of Championship Match

Jack Stevens was considered the chief contender for the championship of the Riverview Country club Saturday afternoon when play opened in the qualifying round of the title match, in which Ken Dickinson will defend his crown. Stevens has been shooting a good game this season and was expected to give the title a hard run. A large field appeared for the opening round shortly after noon with ideal weather conditions. The course was in good shape and some very low scores were expected.

Every member of the club was eligible to enter the competition, which was to consist of regular 18-hole match play in Classes A, B and C. The winner of each class, arranged according to handicap ranging from 12 and under to 19 and over, will receive a medal and have his name engraved a bronze tablet in the clubhouse.

Eight contestants will qualify in Saturday's play, and must play one round each succeeding week until the title is decided.

Hollywood, Calif. — Dode Bercof of Seattle, Pacific coast welterweight, and Spug Meyers, Pocatello, Ida., fought the third draw in the four times they have opposed each other.

Gosport, England — Great Britain took the first international yacht race from the United States, 31 to 9.

Boston, Mass. — Jack Sharkey of Boston won a close decision from King Solomon of Panama in ten rounds.

Giants Nose Out Cubs, 4 To 3, While Pirates Remain Idle In Shower

Five Hits Give Cincinnati Reds Seventh Straight Win, 4 to 3, at Braves' Expense

New York — Midsummer rains, fickle in casting their support among pennant leaders of both major leagues for the last month, again have freshened the drooping hopes of the New York Giants.

By forcing inactivity on the part of the leading Pittsburgh Pirates in the National, rain drops which were generously sprinkled over baseball diamonds in many corners of both circuits Friday enabled the champion New York team to reduce once more the gap between first and second place to a single game. For while the Corsairs were idle, the Giants rode on the wings of a homerun by George Kelly to a triumph over Chicago, 4 to 3.

For seven innings, the Cubs escorted a 3 to 1 advantage, but in the eighth inning Long George Kelly got himself one of those alleged home runs, and ruined the day for Tony Kaufman and his helpers.

Ahead of George as he took his happy way around the clay path were Young and Meusel, all three being good for a run apiece, which won the game.

REDS WIN SEVENTH

Five hits proved sufficient for the Cincinnati Reds to pile up their seventh straight win at the expense of the Boston Braves, 4 to 3.

May was extremely wild and Barnes was hard to hit, but luck broke for the Reds all the way.

Triples by Walker in the first inning and Roush in the sixth were the deciding factors of the game. Boston had eleven men left on bases and May's seven passes yielded almost no returns. A dazzling catch by Roush and Pinelli's third base play were features.

Brooklyn rallied behind the speed ball king, Dazzy Vance, in the last two innings of a game with St. Louis Cards in their half of the ninth to pull out a victory, 9 to 4.

ADD EIGHT STRIKEOUTS

Vance increased his season's strikeout total to 153 with eight in his victory. Opening the game with a pass to Smith, he fanned Torpocer, Hornsby and Bottomley in succession.

Torpocer, who was the only batter who failed to succumb to Vance's strikeout speed while 17 were set down recently, bowed twice Friday afternoon. Dickerman held his own with Dazzy up to the eighth when Brown scored two runs on a triple while in the ninth three passes and four hits netted five runs.

Vance had but two hitless innings, the fifth and sixth, but was supreme in the pinch.

Only one game was played in the American league, the Boston Sox annexing 15 hits of Karr to beat the Cleveland Indians, 7 to 2.

LOS ANGELES HOTELS OUST CHAIR SQUATTERS

Los Angeles — The old variety of young man-about-town who finds it convenient to while away the hours in a comfortable lobby chair in a fashionable hotel, whose rates preclude his permanent residence there, has been forgotten temporarily by the hotel detectives in Los Angeles. They have come to center their attention on the "squatter."

Squatters usually are tourists who come to Los Angeles, take an inexpensive room and join the cafeteria lines every afternoon and evening go to a small hotel, clad in their best garments. They settle into chairs, where they have a good view of the passing pageant, and there they tarry, hour after hour, while the hotel guests and their friends are often crowded out.

"Some of the sitters have favorite chairs and get angry if they find some one ahead of them," said a hotel house man. "It's all a free show, and the idea that hotel guests are forced to stand means nothing to them."

Therefore little printed cards have been added to the equipment of the house detectives. When an unmistakable squatter becomes too regular, he is courteously handed this token from the management. After reading it he usually moves on.

OVERLAND

SIX

Price Reductions

Standard Sedan NOW $895

De Luxe Sedan NOW $1095

Prices F.O.B. Toledo

If there be an epidemic of price-cutting in the industry, Overland is not concerned with it. For never will Overland be a party to any policy that involves the cutting of prices to a figure necessitating a proportionate cut in quality. Q The reason — and the ONLY reason — Overland Six prices are now reduced is because we are selling twice the number of these fine cars we had planned. Q This means huge savings in our purchases, huge savings in manufacturing. Q Therefore, to keep our sales volume at this satisfactory level, these economies are now passed on to you. Before you buy any car in this price class, don't be stampeded. Q Shop carefully around. Investigate all moderate-priced Sixes. Then, check your findings against this big Overland Six. Q As an experienced owner you must then admit that never before, for as little as $895, have you been offered so much of quality and of value in any automobile.

KIDNAPED BOY IS NEAR HERE

Last Reports Are That Schumacher Youth Was Seen Near Appleton

Reports, persist here telling of the presence of 8-year-old Arthur Schumacher in this territory, and sheriff and police forces in this county therefore are sharpening their watch for the missing Wauwatosa boy.

Saturday afternoon Sheriff P. G. Schwartz was to take a business trip through the county, and he intended to make a special effort in finding out if any trace of a boy with vagrants had been seen here lately. Police and sheriff's offices are in receipt of a photograph and full description of the boy. A reward of $500 has been offered for his recovery.

The officers also received a circular of Dwight Tracy, missing Chicago boy, but the lad has since been found drowned.

Following the tip that a boy which might have been little Arthur Schumacher was seen at Wrightstown, word comes here that two Oshkosh residents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Siebold, are convinced that a little boy seen Thursday night with three men on a lane leading to Plummers point, a few miles northwest of Oshkosh, is the missing Wauwatosa boy.

They have reported the matter to the police but further trace of the boy has been found. The Siebolds claim an old man and two younger ones with a boy of about eight years had a car parked near a field, and the license plate on the car, although covered with mud, seemed to be a Florida plate.

They asked the group some questions and received curt answers, the men then taking the boy into the car and heading a hasty retreat in the direction of Oshkosh. They say the boy had on a pair of overalls, wore canvas shoes and was hatless, which tallies with the description of the Schumacher youth.

AND SOLOISTS

Musical Organization Leaves Saturday for Annual Encampment

Following a farewell concert in City park Friday night, 33 members of the 120th Field Artillery band left Saturday morning with E. F. Mumm, conductor, and Sergt. Mike Steinhauser, drum major, for Camp Robinson at Sparta to be encamped for two weeks with other artillery units, of the Wisconsin National Guard and the United States Army.

The band left in a special train following immediately after the Chicago and Northwestern passenger train leaving here shortly before 8 o'clock. On the train were members of Battery B of Green Bay. The company at Sheboygan is attached to the same regiment as the Artillery band of Appleton.

Capt. Eric Lindberg, in charge of the military affairs of the band, and a few band members were unable to make the trip, this year. Mr. Lindberg, whose presence was needed by his firm, the Patten Paper company, was given leave by the authorities to remain at home.

The concert at City park was one of the best heard here this year and was attended by a large throng of persons that crowded close to the bandstand so as to be able to hear the vocal numbers given in connection with the band program.

Three directors took part in the band program. Capt. Fred Rogers, conductor of the American Legion saxophone band, directed one number, Percy Fullinwider, former director of the Artillery band directed one number and Edward F. Mumm, present conductor, directed the remaining numbers.

The number directed by Capt. Rogers was "Follow Me," which he personally arranged. It was rendered as a song to the accompaniment of the band. Ray M. Peeters, baritone, was the soloist, and his work was loudly applauded.

Other vocal solo work was that of George C. Nixon, tenor, who sang "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "Long Long Trail," and of Miss Isabel Wilcox, soprano, who sang "In Shadow Land." The singing was greatly appreciated, and the soloists had to respond to encores. Another pleasing number was a duet from Lucia di Lammermoor sung by Mr. Peeters and Miss Marie Schommer. As an encore they sang "Somewhere a Voice is Calling."

The heavy numbers on the program were the Orpheus and William Tell overtures and "Don Quixote," a suit in four parts. The last mentioned number was directed by Mr. Fullinwider.

EXPECTED FLOOD HITS CITIES ON RIO GRANDE

By Associated Press
El Paso, Tex.—The van of the expected flood in the Rio Grande arrived here early Saturday and passed the flood mark of last Wednesday. The crest of the waters was expected to reach here early Saturday afternoon.

Much of the farm land between here and La Cruces, N. M., is inundated. Thus far there have been no reports of bridges being washed out. Texas and Pacific trains into El Paso are being routed over the Southern Pacific from San Antonio because of washouts between Sierra Blanca and Monahans, Tex. Train service on the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient has been limited by washouts between Alpine and Sweetwater.

OSHKOSH GIRL RETAINS BADGER GOLF CROWN

In two putts while Miss Hadfield needed three, Miss Hadfield evened the match by taking the second. Miss Hadfield again advanced and made it two up by taking the third. Miss Wall came back courageously and annexed the fourth, fifth and sixth, while Miss Hadfield chopped down the margin by taking the eighth. The ninth was even and they made the turn with Miss Wall ahead one up.

The match again hit deadlocks at the end of the tenth and the twelfth. The thirteenth was halved and on the fourteenth the champion took the lead by playing the hole one under par. The fifteenth was even but on the sixteenth Miss Wall, playing with cautiousness, while Miss Hadfield, trailing was forced to take a chance, won when the latter dropped the ball in the creek. On the seventeenth which decided the match, Miss Hadfield hooked into the rough and in chipping her approach, she rolled into the back edge of the green. Miss Wall had a fine drive and got a nice lie near the cup on her second shot. Realizing the situation, Miss Hadfield conceded the hole, congratulated Miss Wall on again winning the title and another state tournament was completed. The pair finished the match to determine the medal score.

BEREAVED MOTHER ENDS OWN LIFE IN CISTERN

By Associated Press
Minneapolis—Mrs. Wenell Swetlik, 40, living near Frances Creek a village nine miles north of here, committed suicide by drowning in a cistern. She slipped off the board of a walk which covered the well and then pulled off the cover itself and was found by her husband when he returned from the crematory, his attention being called by condition of the walk. She had been in the water only a very short time but resuscitation methods failed.

Melancholy over the death of a baby last January was given as the cause for the act. The husband and a seven-year-old son survive.

Hugo Garvey and William Beck Are Tried at Shawano After Arrest

Hugo Garvey of Appleton, and William Beck of Seymour, were each fined $150 at Shawano Tuesday for taking fish from the Evergreen river in the Menominee Indian reservation with a gill net.

An Indian is said to have seen the men using the net to catch trout and reported his suspicions to Game Warden Tie of Shawano. A camp truck understood to be owned by Garvey was searched after a warrant had been issued and the warden. It is alleged, found a wet net within.

Garvey and Beck were arraigned in court at Shawano and paid a total fine of $300. Garvey entered a plea of guilty for both men and Beck did not appear. Shawano authorities say.

GRACE POTOMAC

Two Monuments and Great Bridge in Process of Construction

By Associated Press
Washington—The Potomac River's proverbial serenity will be seriously troubled this summer, for work is under way on two memorials on its banks, and a majestic bridge to span its bosom.

One of the monuments, at the foot of New Hampshire Avenue, and E Street, will commemorate those who lost their lives in the Titanic disaster, in a figure with outstretched arms. John Ericsson, inventor and constructor of the Monitor of Civil War renown, will be remembered in the other piece of statuary, 900 feet south of the Lincoln memorial, not far from the Titanic statue.

The Arlington Memorial Bridge, running southwesterly from the Lincoln memorial to Columbia Island, so as to form an avenue toward the Lee Mansion at Arlington, is to become one of the most beautiful in the world. For its construction the Sixty-eighth Congress authorized an appropriation of $14,750,000 over a ten-year period. Preliminary work on laying the foundations, which will link the Lincoln and Lee highways, has just been started under the direction of Colonel C. O. Sherrill, officer in charge of public buildings and grounds.

The Arlington Bridge commission, headed by President Coolidge, has planned the span as a fitting approach to the national capital and a symbol of the union of north and south. It will be faced with the Colorado yule marble of the Lincoln memorial, and from the south approach will have that memorial, the Washington monument and the dome of the capitol for a background.

MICHIGAN RAILROAD MUST KEEP UP LINE

Washington, D. C.—The Manistee and Northwestern railroad was ordered Saturday by the Interstate Commerce commission to maintain operation of 15 miles of its line in Michigan, which its receivers wish to abandon.

The commission held the road might cease operation on a 77-mile branch line running from Grayling to River Branch Junction, in Michigan.

Psychological Journal Offers Award for Demonstrations

Boston—The sum of $5,000 is awaiting the medium who, under certain conditions, will demonstrate supernatural material phenomena; the occurrences must be bona fide and due to a force not previously known to science.

This announcement appeared in the April number of the Journal of Abnormal and Social Psychology, which lists as follows the members of a committee to carry out the investigations:

Harlow Shapley, professor of practical astronomy at Harvard University and director of the Harvard Observatory; Theodore Lyman, professor of physics at Harvard and director of the Jefferson Physical Laboratory; Dr. Walter B. Cannon, professor of physiology at the Harvard Medical School; Dr. L. T. Troland, assistant professor of psychology at Harvard; and Harry Houdini.

The Journal stipulates various conditions, among which are the following: The medium must cooperate with the committee; there shall be no trickery; the phenomena must be visible, produced in full light and subjected to instrumental recording, measuring and testing; any medium wishing to compete must present evidence of the production of phenomena worthy of investigation, and the award must be made by the unanimous vote of the committee.

The Journal takes this step with the hope of stimulating the search for truth and bringing alleged supernatural phenomena within the domain of scientific research.

Clintonville—A L. Ford of the Wheeler Transfer line of Neenah drove through town Thursday evening with an F. W. D. truck loaded with two maple logs measuring 11 feet in length, averaging 23 inches in diameter.

The logs were cut on the Paul Wichman farm near Caroline and bought by the Hewitt Machine Co., of Neenah, who specialize in making papermachine rolls.

Each log will be made into one roller. Southern timber formerly was used in the manufacture of these rolls. Mr. Ford states he averages 15 miles per hour and has several more trips to make.

TWO FINED
Edwin Schultz of Caroline and William Schinke, Route 4, Clintonville, were arrested for driving their cars while intoxicated. Both paid fines of $100 and costs. Schinke collided with a car driven by Mrs. Walther Wink of Marion, damaging the fenders and running board to the extent of $28.50 which he also paid.

Two young men, Curtis Mann and O. B. Chamberlin, of Grand Marais, Minn., arrived in town Thursday with 14 Alaskan Malamute dogs hitched to an Alaskan sled on wheels with New York City as their destination.

They originally started out with 25 dogs and two vehicles, but owing to a breakdown abandoned one sold 11 dogs and proceeded with one rig.

FOLLOW LEADER
They are hitched in pairs with one leader ahead and one watch dog alongside the team. They travel about 8 miles an hour.

The boys are selling souvenirs to gain a little money for further education at school. They made their headquarters in Central park and intend to stay several days. They expect to reach New York City about Dec. 1.

C. R. Vandervalker, on highway 22 just north of town, left Tuesday for Theda Clark hospital in Neenah, where he submitted to an operation for an abscess Thursday. It is reported he is resting easily.

ATTEND CIRCUS
Extra Wood and family drove to Pulifer Wednesday evening to call on friends, returning the same day accompanied by Mrs. Albert Burger who will spend a week with the Wood family.

Many local people attended the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus at Appleton Wednesday. The majority went by automobile; some of those are Ward Winchester, Leonard Fischer, Jacob Losselyoung and Judson Ballack.

Mrs. Lon Hoskins went to Embarras Thursday to visit Mrs. Fern and attend the Ladies Aid society, returning in the evening.

POWER LEAK SPOILS RADIO RECEPTION

Appleton radio fans are furnishing quite a bit of rumbling and static of their own these days as the result of another power leak in the city which is keeping the real program from being heard. Loyal fans who tune in each evening have become disgusted with the reception and many have given up trying to "hear." Friday night the hum and crackle started at 8 o'clock and continued until 10:30 cutting out the best parts of many interesting programs. Although steps are being taken to eliminate the leak, it does not seem to have been found as yet.

POLISHED BRASS BOWS BEFORE ECONOMY WAVE

Liverpool—Brass work, with which the front doors of most British homes have been adorned for centuries and which contributes to the furnishings of numerous offices, is going out of fashion because of the expense involved in keeping the fixtures shiny. Many new buildings in Liverpool and elsewhere in England are going up without brass or copper decorations.

No 3 A.M. Knot Tying At Menominee After Aug. 27

The wedding of Robert D. Halford of Appleton, and Miss Cecelia Walters of Menasha, which took place in Menominee, Mich., last week was singled out as a typical instance of the kind of wedding which led to the new Michigan law which provides that a five day period elapse between the application for the marriage license and the date of its issue. The dispatch from Menominee to the Milwaukee Journal tells of Halford and Miss Walters routing County Clerk Gideon Brissette out of bed at 3 o'clock in the morning to make out a marriage license for them as they wanted to be married immediately.

The Milwaukee Journal article said in part:
"The couple explained that they had met at a dance pavilion near Appleton, and as Miss Walters declared, 'he is such a lovely dancer,' it was a case of love at the first dance, and hurrying to an automobile they speeded to Menominee, were married, and back to their friends by daylight."

WON'T HURT TRADE MUCH
"However, the less impromptu affairs need not necessarily be inter-ferred with by the new law to an extent that will drive 'trade' away from Menominee's marrying justice. "The case of George Degenhardt, white, 60, of Milwaukee, illustrates. A wealthy widower, and giving 'is occupation as 'retired business man,' he came here early Sunday in a big car driven by a negro chauffeur in livery, accompanied by Miss Madge Brown, 33, a light mulatto, also of Milwaukee, and they were married. There are no miscegenation laws in Michigan."

CAN APPLY BY MAIL

"Under the new law, which becomes effective Aug. 27, should he make application by mail for a marriage license and then come to Menominee five days later the necessary document would be given him and he could be married immediately. Then, in especially hasty affairs, there is always the possibility of obtaining a special dispensation from the probate judge for immediate marriage. There is no eugenics requirements in the new Michigan law as in Wisconsin."

Florence—Edward Neubauer, Iron Mountain, Mich., former sheriff of Dickinson county, was the victim of an assault at Spread Eagle at night. The former sheriff formerly owned the Eagle Island resort, and drove to Spread Eagle in a truck to get some of his belongings. He met a gang of ruffians and after receiving a beating and a black eye, Neubauer pulled a gun and fired several shots, thus making his escape. After his departure the gang dumped his truck into the lake and broke all the articles upon it. Neubauer has sworn out warrants for the attackers on two charges.

Portiuncula Celebration Will Be Held Sunday by Catholics Here

Sunday, Aug. 2, will be observed as the feast of Portiuncula in St. Joseph church in this city. Indulgences may be gained by Catholics who visit the church on that day. It was announced Friday that the Pope this year has decreed that the special indulgences may be obtained only at Franciscan churches or at churches which are more than three miles removed from Franciscan churches. The indulgences of these other churches apply for the privilege of indulgences. Because St. Mary and Sacred Heart churches in Appleton are within three miles of St. Joseph church, which is a Franciscan church, the indulgence cannot be gained by visiting them. It may be gained at Catholic churches in Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna, Kimberly and other cities and villages if the parish priests asked for the privilege.

Portiuncula is the name of a town and parish situated about three quarters of a mile from Assisi, Italy. It was here that St. Francis of Assisi recognized his vocation, Feb. 24, 1208. Here the Benedictines presented him with a little chapel of Our Lady of the Angels, which he repaired, and it was here that St. Francis died. The little city has become famous throughout the world because of the indulgence which St. Francis has gained for this chapel. The indulgence has been called Portiuncula after the city.

THE ANTIQUE ROOM opened Friday on the Third Floor. This Colonial Room is filled with a collection of authentic antiques, collected from private owners by our own expert. New pieces are placed on display daily as they are secured, cleaned and restored. No antiques are shown unless they are in perfect condition. The displays of furniture in the Antique Room are but a small part of our complete stock. A number of pieces including sofas, various types of beds, tables and chairs are now being refinished. As soon as they are completed, they will be immediately added to these displays. As new pieces are constantly being purchased and restored, the displays of the Antique Room change almost daily.

China and glass makes an interesting portion of the Antique Room. Blue Staffordshire and lustre china are shown together with Sandwich glass, Bristol glass and early American pressed pieces. More modern glass that is quaint and old timey is also shown at very moderate prices. Brass, iron, pewter and tin antiques are also shown in this room. Woven and applique coverlets make another display.

Pettibone's Antique Room features surprisingly low prices. Pieces are shown here as LOW as ONE THIRD of the price they would be marked in Eastern antique shops. Prices start at 40c!
